WENZELL REPORT URGED TVA POWER OPERATIONS BE GIVEN TO TAXPAYING FIRM

APPEAL FOR BAR ON WAR SIGNED BY EINSTEIN AND OTHERS REVEALED

Bertrand Russell Who Drew Up Manifesto From Scientists to World Leaders, Makes It Public.

LONDON, July 9 (AP)—Just before his death Albert Einstein joined seven other eminent scientists in signing an appeal to world rulers to end war lest nuclear weapons destroy mankind.

Bertrand Russell, 83-year-old British philosopher, drew up the manifesto. He disclosed its wording and the details connected with its signature today at a news conference attended by 200 persons.

Russell said he received Einstein's signature to the document a day before the propounder of the theory of relativity died in the United States on April 18.

The wording of the statement showed it contemplated a conference of scientists to adopt a resolution to be presented to the heads of governments. There was no indication that such a conference was held.

12 Didn't Sign.

Russell said he asked 20 scientists on both sides of the Iron Curtain to approve his document. Nine said no and three, including Arthur H. Compton of Washington University, St. Louis, never answered.

Russell said Einstein informed him on April 11 he was "gladly willing to sign your excellent statement."

Einstein's scientific studies led to the development of the atomic bomb and eventually to the hydrogen bomb, which he called "the very essence of evil."

The statement drafted for government leaders of the major powers said:

"Here, then, is the problem which we present to you, stark and dreadful and inescapable: shall we put an end to the human race: or shall mankind renounce war?"

The proposed resolution said: "In view of the fact that in any future war nuclear weapons will certainly be employed, and that such weapons threaten the continued existence of mankind, we urge the governments of the world to realize, and to acknowledge publicly, that their purposes cannot be furthered by a world war, and we urge them, consequently, to find peaceful means for settlement of all matters of dispute between them."

Choice to Make.

The scientists said people ask the question—"There lies before us, if we chose, continual progress in happiness, knowledge and wisdom—shall we, instead, choose death, because we cannot forget our quarrels?"

"We are speaking on this occasion, not as members of this or that nation, continent or creed, but as human beings, members of the species man, whose continued existence is in doubt," the statement added.

"The world is full of conflicts, and overshadowing all minor conflicts, the titanic struggle between Communism and anti-Communism."

Other Signers.

In addition to Russell and Einstein, the signatories to the document were:

Prof. P. W. Bridgman of Harvard, Nobel prize winner for physics.

Prof. L. Infeld, University of Warsaw and member of the Polish Academy of Sciences.

Fishing Boat Crewman Admits Beaming Phony Distress Signal

Breaks Into Radio Shack — Companion for Whom He Showed Off Held.

WOODMERE, N.Y., July 9 (AP)—A 21-year-old crewman on a fishing boat admitted early today, police said, that he beamed a fake distress signal Thursday morning. The message sent Coast Guard rescue vessels looking for the phantom boat Blue Star.

A 17-year-old pal, for whom the crewman was showing off, was held also.

An S O S signal, purportedly coming from the Blue Star, sent Coast Guard rescue craft on a $50,000 search of the Atlantic early Thursday.

Nassau county police said the crewman admitted that after they had made a tour of bars he beamed the phony distress signal to show his younger pal how a "real radio works."

Laid Off 6 Weeks Ago.

The older youth was identified as Thomas Maldona of East Rockaway, N.Y., laid off six weeks ago from the commercial fishing boat St. Joseph. His companion was George Teen of Oceanside, N.Y.

Police said the youths, who broke into the radio shack of the St. Joseph, were charged with a third-degree burglary and held under bonds of $5000 each until Tuesday. This was only to hold them until the federal government can act.

They are expected to be turned over for prosecution by the Federal Communications Commission as soon as a warrant is obtained from a federal judge.

Under commission regulations, a hoaxer faking a disaster at sea faces a $10,000 fine, a year in prison or both.

Police received the first clue to the hoaxer's identity when William Herivede of Valley Stream, N.Y., owner of the St. Joseph, reported the lock on the boat's radio shack had been broken and that the radio set was on.

The distress signal said the 40-foot fishing boat, Blue Star, was sinking with 21 persons aboard after striking a "strange object" 30 miles off Barnegat, N.J.

The message said a boiler room explosion set the boat ablaze, blocking access to life preservers. The last radio telephoned message at 3:05 a.m. said tersely that the Blue Star was going down and a foreign submarine was picking up survivors.

The broadcasters had maintained contact for over an hour with the tugboat, Nancy Moran, which relayed their messages to the Coast Guard.

4000-Mile Patrol.

Coast Guard air and sea craft patrolled 4000 square miles of the sea in the area pinpointed in the messages only to find an oil slick and a torn, unmarked lifejacket bobbing in the water. Neither was necessarily an indication of a disaster, the Coast Guard said.

The search, which cost the Government $50,000, was called off after 30 hours, when it was ascertained that all boats listed under the name Blue Star were accounted for, no submarine was in the area and that no calls from relatives were received by the Coast Guard.

When the search was finally written off as a hoax Comdr. James Doyle of Coast Guard headquarters at Woodmere said: "What we'd like to say or do to the person who would do such a thing is unprintable."

HOTTEST NIGHT OF YEAR SO FAR WITH 81.2 AVERAGE

Weatherman Harry F. Wahlgren made it official today—last night was the hottest thus far this year. He reported that the average temperature from 10 p.m. until 7 a.m. was 81.2. The minimum reading of 78 at 6 a.m. was the highest minimum of the year, too.

Maximum yesterday, 95 at 4 p.m., tied the maximum of July 3 for the highest thus far this year.

The biggest crowd of the Municipal Opera season, 11,500 persons, saw "Guys and Dolls" last night at the open-air theater in Forest Park. Opera officials said the hot weather helped bring in the customers, as crowds are not usually so big this time of year.

The only consolation that Wahlgren could offer to St. Louisans was the thought. "It was comparatively cool here yesterday." He pointed to temperatures reaching 100 at various places in Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas.

SECOND METEOR IN WEEK FLASHES ACROSS SKY HERE

A brilliant meteor—the second to be seen here within a week—flashd into the eastern portion of the sky last night. Eyewitnesses described it as blue-green and cone-shaped.

"It was the largest one I ever saw. At the end it seemed to open up, as if it were splitting into three pieces," said Fred H. Sassenberg, 1450 Hawthorne place, Richmond Heights. Sassenberg and a fellow amateur astronomer Walter S. Houston spotted the meteor at 10:32 p.m. while they were adjusting a camera fitted to Sassenberg's telescope.

Some of the pieces of last night's meteor may have dropped to the earth in this area, Edwin E. Friton, regional director of the American Meteor Society, said he lives at 508 Marshall avenue, Webster Groves.

Friton added he would like to examine any stones from the meteor which are discovered. Reports of those who saw last night's meteor and the one which appeared July 2, indicating direction, altitude, brightness, speed and accompanying sound, if any, would also be appreciated, Friton said.

GRANDCHILDREN AT FARM WITH PRESIDENT, WIFE

The youngsters—Dwight David II, Barbara Anne and Susan—arrived yesterday with their parents, Maj. John Eisenhower and his wife. The President's son is now on leave. His next station will be Fort Velvoir, Pa., just south of Washington.

The President flew to the farm yesterday afternoon, to join Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. Elivera Doud, there.

Because of the rain, the President couldn't have played golf if a round had been scheduled. He spent part of the afternoon driving about his property.

BOSTON, July 9 (UP)—Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin yesterday signed a trade name registration for "Davy Crockett straight Kentucky bourbon whisky."

VALUATION BOOST CALLED PERIL TO ENTIRE COUNTY TAX STRUCTURE

Councilman McNary Says Litigation Could Hold Up Reassessment — Urges Delay in State Order.

Citing reports he has heard that many St. Louis county real estate owners plan court action against the assessment boost ordered by the State Tax Commission, county councilman James H. J. McNary said today the entire tax structure in the county may be endangered unless the commission modifies its order.

Litigation, McNary told the Post-Dispatch, might result in long delays in carrying out reassessment — making financial planning extremely difficult.

This, in turn, could lead to grave financial problems for the county and the various governmental units within the county which derive their income from property taxes, he pointed out.

The county council has acted in good faith, McNary asserted, in ordering a parcel-by-parcel revaluation of all real estate in the county.

He suggested that, to avoid the financial problems, the tax commission change its order and permit the county to boost assessments to the required 30 per cent of true market value as the piece-by-piece revaluation is carried out. It is estimated this will take about two and one-half years.

Made Study of Order.

McNary, Democrat from the Second district, said he was expressing his personal views. He was a member of a special committee of councilmen which studied the assessment problem after the state commission had said it would order the increase.

In an order issued this week, the state agency directed that county assessments be increased by $300,945,559, to make a new total of $769,891,919. Before the order, the commission said, assessments averaged 18.12 per cent of true market value.

In Jefferson City, Gov. Phil M. Donnelly declined to comment on the request of the County Board of Equalization that he approve a bill pending before him which would require local taxing authorities to reduce levies to offset increases resulting from high valuations.

The bill, passed at the recent session of the Legislature, would require that tax rates be cut when property assessed valuations are increased 10 per cent or more over the preceding year. The required deduction is designed to hold revenues from the higher valuations to about the same level that would have been produced before the valuations were increased.

55 Pct. in St. Charles.

In St. Charles county an order was received by County Clerk Ralph Dierker from the tax commission yesterday calling for a 55 per cent increase in overall real estate assessments, from $22,872,525 to $35,515,458. St. Charles and St. Louis counties were among 26 counties where assessment increases were ordered.

The increase amounted to 70 per cent for rural and 40 per cent for urban properties in St. Charles county.

Dierker indicated the order would not be resisted and said a blanket increase in assessed valuations would be necessary. As in St. Louis county, however, taxing agencies have indicated tax rates would be lowered to an amount sufficient to provide the same revenue as before.

The tax commission also ordered a 20 per cent increase in assessed value of cattle in St. Charles county, or from $525,400 to $630,380. This represented an increase of about $39 to $47 per head.

The commission this week completed, barring litigation, the first phase of its move to bring assessed valuations of all real estate in the 114 Missouri counties up to 30 per cent of true market value by issuing orders to the 26 counties to boost assessments.

Increases ordered by the commission under constitutional and statutory provisions, over the

CHILDREN FRET AS BACKYARD ZOO IS RULED TABOO

BALDWIN, N.Y., July 9 (AP)—For months Andy Burr Jr. and his pals worked to build a real, honest-to-goodness zoo in Andy's backyard. Now city officials say they have to close up.

"They're not hurting anybody," said Andy tearfully yesterday. "They're just here in the backyard. They don't make noises at night and they're not hurting the zoning board any."

The zoning board says the zoo violates a city ordinance.

Four rabbits have been given away. Still awaiting a home are Blossom, the deodorized skunk; Red, the fox; Josephine, the pig that likes to be scratched under the chin; three squirrels, a prairie dog and a coyote.

U.S. SAID TO LOSE $350,000 ON ZINC DEALS IN WHICH YOUNG HAD PART

Senators Told of Contracts With Mines With Which Federal Official Allegedly Was Connected.

By JAMES A. DEAKIN
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 9 — The Government suffered losses of more than $350,000 on contracts with three Kansas mining companies with which Howard I. Young of St. Louis was allegedly connected while he was serving as an unpaid Federal official, the Post-Dispatch was told today.

Young, president of the American Zinc, Lead & Smelting Co. of St. Louis, has emerged as a key figure in a controversy over whether to continue the practice of asking industry executives to take high Federal posts without pay.

Senate Testimony.

In a closed meeting yesterday, the Senate Banking Committee heard a charge that Young, while serving as deputy administrator of the Defense Materials Procurement Agency, allegedly had a part in the handling of loans and contracts for companies with which he was "indirectly affiliated," a source close to the committee said.

The committee reportedly was told that the Government took a "substantial" loss on the contracts. Another committee source identified the companies as Kansas mining concerns and placed the loss in excess of $350,000.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the joint Senate-House Committee on Defense Production said he had been notified that Young would accept an invitation to testify before that group on his role in the awarding of subsidies to companies producing zinc for the Government's stockpile of critical and strategic materials.

Controller General Joseph Campbell has reported apparent "conflicts of interest" in Young's activities as deputy administrator of the DMPA, which supervised the stockpiling program. Campbell also has charged that there was "laxity" in the administration of the stockpiling contracts.

Notified by Attorney

Harold J. Warren, clerk and counsel to the joint committee, said a Washington attorney who is a friend of Young had informed him the St. Louis executive would accept the committee's invitation to testify. Warren said he did not know when the committee would meet.

After yesterday's meeting of the Banking Committee, that group turned the investigation back to the joint committee, which serves as a congressional "watchdog" over the stockpiling program. The joint committee previously had held a closed hearing on the matter.

Young left St. Louis yesterday on his way to Washington for previously-scheduled engagement. However, he apparently changed his plans and was reported to be in Nashville, Tenn.

Campbell, accompanied by staff members of the General Accounting Office, testified before the Banking Committee for more than two hours yesterday. He reportedly outlined Young's role in the contracts and subsidies given the three Kansas mining companies.

Campbell reportedly told the committee he considered Young's activities "unethical," but the Controller General was said to have emphasized that he did not believe the St. Louisan violated any statute.

New Curbs Proposed.

After Campbell's appearance, the committee voted unanimously to seek new restrictions on the government practice of assigning executives of private

EISENHOWER TO MAKE TV TALK FRIDAY NIGHT ON BIG FOUR MEETING

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP). PRESIDENT EISENHOWER will make a television-radio speech to the nation next Friday night on Big Four summit conference and what he hopes to accomplish there.

He will speak for 15 minutes shortly before he takes off by plane for Geneva.

The speech will be carried over all TV and radio networks. It will originate from the White House broadcast room at 8:15 p.m. EDT (7:15 p.m. St. Louis time).

Whitfield's AEC Nomination To Be Dropped at His Request

He Says He Is Victim of Insinuations—Doesn't Want to Embroil Commission.

ALLEN WHITFIELD

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—Allen Whitfield's controversial nomination as an Atomic Energy Commission member, investigated for weeks by a Senate-House committee, appeared to be dead today.

The Republican attorney from Des Moines, Iowa, asked President Eisenhower yesterday to withdraw his name, first sent to the Senate last March 16. The White House indicated this would be done next week.

Whitfield said he had been made the "victim of insinuations which have been widely circulated by sources unknown to me," and acted to avoid embroiling the AEC in political controversy.

Senator Clinton Anderson (Dem.), New Mexico, chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy which has been investigating the matter, said the group had spent "thousands of dollars" collecting information on Whitfield.

"I do believe the effort was justified and hope that any new

KEFAUVER SAYS PAPER SHOWS HOW AUTHORITY WAS ATTACKED

Banker Set Agency's 'Deficiency in Earnings' for Year at $21,000,000 as Compared With Private Utilities.

WASHINGTON, July 9 (UP)—A Senate subcommittee today made public recommendations of Adolphe H. Wenzell in 1953 for curtailing the functions of the Tennessee Valley Authority and putting much of its power operation under a new taxpaying corporation.

Senator Estes Kefauver (Dem.), Tennessee, said the report showed how TVA "was attacked in the dark, behind its back and with no chance to reply."

Wenzell made the report when he was a consultant to the Budget Bureau and a first vice president of the First Boston Corp., a New York investment firm. That corporation was later the financial agent for the Dixon-Yates combine with which the Administration made its controversial contract to supply private power to the TVA.

TVA 'Deficiency' Charged.

The report showed that Wenzell had estimated that TVA's "deficiency in earnings" from its power operations, as compared with nearby utilities, was $21,500,000 for the year ending April 30, 1953.

"This is the amount of subsidy or giveaway," he said.

Wenzell said he was offering "a fairly simple solution" in order to "escape the dilemma" of maintaining the position that TVA is primarily interested in navigation and flood control on one hand and being forced into steam power business on the other.

"Continue the TVA in its flood control and its navigation activity," he said, "by retaining in the TVA ownership of all the multiple-use dams and retaining control of the operations of the dams so as to maintain the primary objectives of flood control and navigation."

"Transfer the balance of the power system assets to a fully tax-paying corporation, the entire capitalization of which in the first instance would be owned by the United States.

"Have the new corporation purchase at the bus bars (point at which generated power is transferred to the transmission line) the entire output of multiple-use dams at a price formula which would include equivalent local taxes, interest at a rate equivalent to cost of long-term Government money and amortization over 40 years."

Proposes Sale of Securities.

Wenzell proposed that future capital needs for expansion be obtained through the sale of regular corporate securities with no Government guarantee. He would also have the Government eventually dispose of its holdings in the power corporation.

"Some rate adjustment would be necessary but the objective of getting the Federal Government out of the subsidized power business would be attained without surrendering any measure of control over navigation and flood control in the Tennessee river basin."

Wenzell recommended also that TVA's chemical and fertilizer operations and its resource development program be re-examined by experts independent of TVA management.

A special Senate Monopoly subcommittee investigating the Dixon-Yates contract finally obtained the report after Wenzell testified yesterday he would like to see it made public.

Report Previously Barred.

Mr. Eisenhower previously had refused to let Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes give the subcommittee the report.

Democrats have charged that at the same time Wenzell was advising the Government on public power policies, he was, in his capacity as a First Boston Corp. officer, advising the group behind the Dixon-Yates project. First Boston later arranged Dixon-Yates financing but waived its usual fee.

Senator Albert Gore (Dem.), Tennessee, said the report appeared to show that Wenzell "not only was advising on policy but was a policy maker." Mr. Eisenhower and Hughes have said Wenzell had nothing to do with policy.

The subcommittee called Wenzell back for further questioning Monday concerning his dual role of adviser to the Dixon-Yates combine and the Budget Bureau at the same time.

He testified yesterday that he

HUNGARY SEIZES 2 REPORTERS, 2 IN U.S. LEGATION

All Hungarians — A.P. and U.P. Correspondents in Budapest Arrested.

VIENNA, July 9 (UP)—Communist Hungary today announced the arrest of the United Press and Associated Press correspondents in Budapest and of two employes of the United States legation.

The correspondents are Dr. Ilonya Nyilas of the United Press and her husband, Endre Marton of the Associated Press.

Marton was arrested last February, but the Communists did not admit they had seized him until today. His wife vanished June 24. The couple has two daughters.

The whereabouts of the two small Marton children were not known. One unconfirmed report said they had been turned over to relatives by their parents.

Announcement of the arrests was broadcast by the Budapest radio.

The Red radio also said that United States legation employes Balint Sapzsi and Cornelius Balas were under arrest.

It said all four persons were "under suspicion of working for a long time for the American secret information service."

All of the four arrested persons are Hungarians. Their names were broadcast in an official communique from the Hungarian Communist news service MTI.

The United States State Department had delivered a note to the Hungarian government at Budapest last Saturday protesting against the arrest of Balas.

The Associated Press said May 5 that it had information indication Marton had been arrested by the Hungarian secret police. It said communications from Marton to the Vienna bureau of the AP ceased late in February. Inquiries early in March brought no reply from the Hungarian Foreign Ministry, it said.

PARIS ASSEMBLY APPROVES HOME RULE FOR TUNISIA

Votes Overwhelmingly, 540 to 43, for Measure — Even Communists Support It.

PARIS, July 9 (UP)—France today backed its pledge of home rule for Tunisia with overwhelming National Assembly approval.

The Communist deputies gave Premier Faure an impressive majority of 540 to 43 when they threw their 98 votes to his side. Only a few conservatives voted against the Government or abstained.

Faure warned deputies there could be no question of amendments or adjournments to delay the hand over of home rule. "Colonialism is finished," he declared.

The historic action followed urgent pleas from Faure and former Premier Mendes-France in three days of debate. The debate climaxed eight months of negotiations between the top French and Tunisian delegates.

President Rene Coty must now affix his formal ratification signature to the home-rule conventions.

The conventions give Tunisians gradual control of police and courts through the next 20 years and more rapid control over state machinery inside the country, a French protectorate since 1881. Foreign policy and the army remain in French hands for an indefinite period.

Mendes-France told the Assembly in his first speech since his government fell Feb. 5 that "the real test" of the treaty will depend on the way the provisions are applied.

"It has been said that one day we will get chased out of Tunisia," he said.

"Yes, that is true, if we follow a policy of repression. But if we show real comprehension and are brotherly, why should the Tunisians separate themselves from us?"

Refusal by France to make good its long-standing home rule promises almost certainly would have resulted in a serious outburst of terrorism in the North African territory, observers said.

Tunisia was as much an object of terrorist violence before last fall as neighboring territories Morocco and Algeria are now.

Mendes-France, then Premier, quieted the uprisings by promising home rule. He fell from office before he could get the program under way, but Faure carried on the talks with Tunisian Premier Tahar Ben Amar and other leaders.

Granting of home rule coincided with the return home of Habib Bourguiba, leader of the nationalist Neo-Destour party who had been exiled by the French earlier.

Bachelor's Ad Invites People To Call, and 22 Come to Dinner

CHICAGO, July 9 (AP)—A recent full-page ad in a suburban newspaper read: "Why not call? Orchard 3-1117."

Fourteen persons, most of them women, telephoned. They were invited to a cocktail and dinner party last night at a hotel and told that each might bring a guest.

The ad was inserted by Richard Fuhr, president of a lumber company in suburban Morton Grove. Fuhr, a bachelor, said he did it as a stunt to see who would call. He picked up the sizable check for the party of 22.

Cow on Bluff Above Road Jumps Into Back Seat of Passing Auto

HASTINGS, Mich., July 9 (UP)—Eighteen-year-old Linda Bowerman was driving along a country road when a cow jumped into the back seat of her automobile, she told police yesterday. Sheriff's officers who checked the story said it was true.

The cow was ong of several that had broken out of pasture and was munching grass at the top of a 10-foot bluff overlooking the road. The cow jumped from the bluff and landed in Miss Bowerman's car.

Cleoria Bowerman, a passenger, was treated for minor injuries, and the automobile suffered considerable damage, police said.

The cow, uninjured, got out of the automobile without help and wandered off down the road before she was captured by her owner.

U.S. ACCEPTS EXPULSION OF 3 ATTACHES BY SOVIET UNION

State Department Apparently Seeks to Keep Incident From Disturbing Prospects For Big Four Talks.

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The United States has quietly settled its diplomatic dispute with Russia over three American Army officers expelled from the Soviet Union.

The State Department, apparently to keep the incident from disturbing prospects for the Big Four summit conference, has accepted Russia's right to order the three embassy aids out of the country.

Three replacements for the men, all assistant Army attaches, will be named, however, with the expectation Russia will agree to accredit them for the American Embassy in Moscow. The name of one of the men has gone forward for approval, it was learned.

No Publicity.

The whole incident and its aftermath have been handled without publicity, obviously in an effort to keep the affair from mushrooming into a major disagreement at this time. The State Department confirmed the incident only after details had become known.

Informed officials disclosed last June 17 that Russia had barred the three, declaring them persona non grata, or persons unacceptable to the Soviet Union. The three are Lt. Col. John S. Vinson of Milton, Mass.; Capt. William R. Stroud of Kewanee, Ill., and Capt. Walter Mule of Fort Monmouth, N.J.

Their expulsion was for allegedly improper activities, not publicly specified.

Three Return to United States.

The three have returned to the United States for reassignment.

As far as could be learned from officials, who were reluctant to talk about the matter, the United States has no plans for retaliating against the Soviet Union by ordering several Soviet Embassy aids to leave the country.

Russia and the United States in the past adopted a tit-for-tat policy whenever such incidents came up. Nearly a year ago Russia ousted an American lieutenant colonel and a major attached to the American Embassy, accusing them of improper activity including espionage. The State Department promptly denied the charges. It said Russia's move was dictated by a desire to retaliate because the United States had kicked out three Soviet diplomats earlier in the year on similar grounds.

WENZELL REPORT URGED CUT IN TVA FUNCTIONS

advised the Dixon-Yates group in his capacity as a Budget Bureau consultant. Both he and Arthur H. Dean, the First Boston's counsel, said there was never any covering up by First Boston Corp. or Wenzell of their part in the Dixon-Yates deal.

Dean was head of the United States delegation to the Korean truce negotiations. He is a partner in Sullivan and Cromwell law firm. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles formerly was a partner in it.

Agent in Getting Loans.

The First Boston ended up as financial agent in obtaining loans of about $100,000,000 for the Dixon-Yates combine to finance the cost of building its plant at West Memphis, Ark. It was to supply TVA with power in the Memphis area to release TVA power for delivery to atomic production plants elsewhere.

Other Dixon-Yates developments included:

The White House suggested that the Memphis City Council vote to assume sole responsibility for the city's power. Mayor Frank Tobey promptly rejected the suggestion as unnecessary. But he repeated that the city is determined to build its own power plant rather than use Dixon-Yates electricity.

Tennessee Gov. Frank Clement wired President Eisenhower his assurance "personally and officially that the officials of Memphis are honorable men who are acting in good faith" on plans to build their own plant.

Defends Use of FBI.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. told the Senate subcommittee that it was entirely proper to use the Federal Bureau of Investigation to inquire about the facts of Memphis's plans to build a power plant. But subcommittee Chairman Estes Kefauver (Dem.), Tennessee, said Brownell's explanation of this use of the FBI was unsatisfactory and called on the Attorney General for further explanation.

(The Associated Press said Brownell declined an invitation to appear before a Senate subcommittee yesterday, sending instead a written explanation about the use of FBI agents.)

Brownell wrote that it was "normal and appropriate" to use FBI agents to find out if Memphis really is going to build its own power plant.

Several Democrats denounced the move as a "shocking misuse" of FBI powers and "Gestapo-state" tactics.

Brownell replied that the FBI has "many other investigative functions" besides looking into law-breaking and subversive activities. He said it was entirely proper to use the FBI men to get "the facts" on the Memphis situation.

Tells of Big Conference.

Wenzell testified that a "fairly big" conference he attended on the Dixon-Yates contract at the Atomic Energy Commission was not included in the Administration's public report on the matter.

Wenzell, now an official of the World Bank, said he was advising the Dixon-Yates group in his capacity as a Budget Bureau consultant although he identified himself on the AEC visitor register as a First Boston Corp. officer.

Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee demanded that the President "open the files and let the public read the complete, uncensored record of the Dixon-Yates deal."

NEHRU EXPECTS RUSSIA TO PUSH FOR ASIA PARLEY

LONDON, July 9 (AP)—Diplomatic informants said Indian Prime Minister Nehru told Prime Minister Eden today the Russians at Geneva will call for early high level talks on the Far East with Red China present and Nationalist China barred.

Eden conferred last night and again today with Nehru at the former's country home outside London.

The informants said Nehru, who has just visited in the Soviet Union, told Eden Soviet Premier Bulganin intends to raise Far Eastern issues at the summit conference, including Red China's representation in the United Nations.

Informants said Eden and Nehru agreed to continue their behind-the-scenes efforts to set up direct talks between Communist China and the United States on a Far Eastern settlement.

The two statesmen, flanked by top advisers, also considered the prospects of establishing broader East-West negotiating machinery to deal with the Formosa disputes and other Asian trouble spots.

URGES ALIEN RED PROPERTY BE USED TO SETTLE CLAIMS

WASHINGTON, July 9 (UP)—The State Department has urged Congress to approve legislation permitting United States citizens to settle claims against countries with assets in this country.

Assistant Secretary of State Thruston D. Morton told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary "give no evidence of any intention to satisfy such claims," despite provisions of their peace treaties with the United States. He said the department "considers it desirable to seize the blocked Bulgarian, Hungarian and Romanian property" in the United States "and to apply the proceeds of the liquidation of such property to the satisfaction of American claims."

The bill also provides for use of $9,000,000 in proceeds from sale of Soviet-held property in this country to pay claims of United States nationals against Russia.

U.S. ATOMIC CANNON UPSETS IN GERMANY, FIVE INJURED

MUNICH, Germany, July 9 (AP) — A giant United States atomic cannon overturned on an express highway near Munich late yesterday, injuring five soldiers in its crew. Their names were withheld.

It was the fourth such mishap since the 280 mm guns were brought to Germany late in 1953.

The Army said the big cannon, which is moved on front and rear transporter units, was returning from a training exercise at Grafenwoehr to its home station at Baumholder.

U.S. SAID TO LOSE $350,000 ON DEALS BY HOWARD YOUNG companies to serve without pay in top federal policy-making and administrative posts in peacetime.

Senator J. William Fulbright (Dem.), Arkansas, chairman of the Banking Committee, told reporters the committee was concerned over the possibility that these executives "reflected the industry point of view" and were not as objective as they might be in administering government programs.

After Campbell submitted his report on Thursday, Fulbright postponed Senate debate on a bill to extend for two more years the Defense Production Act, which authorizes the Government to stockpile critical materials.

Yesterday's committee action apparently removed the obstacles to Senate consideration of the extension bill. Fulbright said Senate debate on the measure probably would be resumed next week.

He added that the Banking Committee planned no more hearings on the controversy involving Young and would leave that up to the joint committee.

Two Amendments Added.

The Banking Committee added two amendments placing further restrictions on Government employment of so-called "W.O.C.'s," a phrase applied to the business executives who serve without compensation.

As already written, the extension bill would forbid the employment of "W.O.C.'s" in policy-making or administrative posts in the Government's preparedness program. This limitation had been opposed by the Eisenhower Administration as too stringent.

The committee added language forbidding the "W.O.C.'s" from taking any part in negotiation of contracts with firms in which they or their private employers have any interest.

Another amendment would make the additional limitations effective "except in time of war or national emergency hereafter declared by the President."

The unpaid officials were known during World War II as "dollar-a-year men." Eighteen such officials now hold positions in the Commerce Department's Defense Services Administration and three in the Office of Defense Mobilization, both of which are concerned with preparing the nation for the eventuality of war.

Weeks, Flemming Object.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and Defense Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming have protested that the proposed restrictions on employment of "W.O.C.'s" would hamper the defense preparedness program by depriving the Government of the services of trained industrial executives.

Fulbright said the proposed new restrictions probably would mean that those "W.O.C.'s" now serving in Government posts would be forced to resign. He said the curbs were adopted by the committee at Campbell's suggestion.

In his report to Fulbright, the Controller General said that the deputy administrator of the Defense Materials Procurement agency in 1951-53 had at the same time been head of a company "which was beneficially interested" in three other firms given subsidies by the DMPA.

Young served as deputy administrator of the DMPA from September 1951 to May 1953, while continuing to head the American Zinc, Lead & Smelting Co.

Sends Report on Contracts.

Campbell sent Fulbright reports on contracts awarded by the DMPA to three companies for zinc to be added to the Government's stockpile.

"These reports show that after the emergency need, if any, for these programs had ceased, zinc production contracts were made and government funds were made available to these companies, all marginal producers, notwithstanding serious objections by certain officials as to the legality and propriety of such action," Campbell wrote. He continued:

"There appears to be established certain 'conflict of interest' in connection with these contracts on the part of the then deputy administrator of AMPA, serving without compensation and who at the same time was head of the American Zinc, Lead & Smelting Co., which was beneficially interested in the program of the three companies.

"Laxities in the administration and control of these contracts were likewise found. 'In none of the cases has there been any substantial production. Thus most of the total amounts furnished by the Government will be required to be accounted as lost.'"

During Korean War.

Fulbrignt said the losses on zinc contracts occurred during the Korean war. He said he questioned the "wisdom" of some of the stockpiling contracts, but added that he did not intend this to be a reflection on the "integrity or motives" of the industry executives in charge of the program.

Senator Homer E. Capehart (Rep.), Indiana, a member of both the Banking Committee and the Joint Committee on Defense Production, said he would confer with Flemming this weekend in an attempt to clarify the Administration's stand on the role of "W.O.C.'s" in a peacetime Government.

He said he intended to ask Flemming if the defense mobilization chief thought the restrictions voted by the Banking Committee should be softened.

Capehart told reporters the joint committee would ask Young to testify, adding that the St. Louisan should have an opportunity to reply to Campbell's charges.

Young Defended.

Young's name also came up yesterday in hearings of the House Banking Committee. He was defended there by John G. Liebert, a special assistant to Assistant Secretary of the Interior Felix Wormser, against any implication that he had served his firm, the American zinc concern, while holding the federal job.

"I can assure the committee," Liebert said, "I know no man whom I esteem more highly for his honesty and integrity."

Liebert spoke out when the committee put into its record a copy of the letter from Comptroller General Campbell saying there were some apparent conflicts of interests in some zinc contracts.

Chairman Spence (Dem.), Kentucky, of the House group told Liebert: "You're a character witness. We want to find out about the facts of the case."

CZECHS TO FREE BRITISH WIFE AND HER 3 CHILDREN

LONDON, July 9 (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia today bowed to Britain's demands for the release of British-born Phyllis Sispera and her three young children.

The Foreign Office announced that the Prague government has agreed to let Mrs. Sispera, a Czech citizen through marriage, leave the country with her children.

Mrs. Sispera was married to Jaroslav Sispera, a Czech, in 1941 when he was serving as an officer in the British Royal Air Force. Sispera was later jailed on treason charges by the Communist Czech government and Mrs. Sispera was compelled by the Reds to divorce him. Their children, all born in England, are in a Prague children's home.

Mrs. Sispera has been trying to return to Britain since 1948 and once was imprisoned for 10 months for attempting to leave Czechoslovakia illegally.

ARGENTINA LETS CATHOLIC PRIESTS VISIT HOSPITALS

BUENOS AIRES, July 9 (UP)—The government lifted another restriction on Roman Catholics last night. It ordered the re-admission of priests to public hospitals to offer spiritual help.

Oscar E. Albrieu, new minister of Interior and Justice, issued the order repealing a ruling declared by his predecessor, Angel Borlenghi.

Borlenghi, considered a leader of the anti-clerical movement in Argentina before his resignation following the June 16 revolt, had barred all religious personnel from government-supported institutions.

By the Associated Press.

Seventeen bishops and other officials of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States will visit Argentina for three days starting July 12, en route to Rio de Janeiro to attend the international Eucharistic congress.

Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel of New Orleans heads the delegation, which will include Msgr. William T. Sloan of Alton, Ill.

LAOTIAN FORCES RECAPTURE POSTS OVERRUN BY REDS

Counter-Attack Spearheaded by Paratroopers Rushed to Threatened Area by Plane.

SAIGON, Indochina, July 9 (UP)—Loyal Laotian forces have recaptured positions overrun by Communist-led rebels deep in the jungle-covered mountains of the Indochinese kingdom, Laotian officials said today.

The counter-attack was spearheaded by paratroopers rushed to the threatened area by plane yesterday. They were supported by local national forces.

Laotian officials said the loyal forces had retaken "many" of the posts seized Thursday in what the government had described as a "massive" attack. The attacking forces were identified as members of Red-organized Pathet-Lao (Free Laos) movement which was organized to fight guerrilla actions against the French in the Indochinese war.

The rebels struck in the region of Muong Peun, in the Sam Neuva province some 60 miles south of Communist North Viet Nam.

The officials said a "large" force of national troops were dispatched to the provinces of Sam Neuva and Xieng Khoang to prevent the rebels from gegaining the recaptured territory.

Laotian officials said the rebels lost about 20 dead and some 100 wounded in the attack Thursday. Laotian army losses were described as "smaller."

Rebel forces were estimated as at least three battalions. They were said to be reinforced by Communist Vietminh elements who apparently have hid out in the rugged terrain since the Geneva cease-fire ended the Indochinese war a year ago.

SCIENTIST'S PLEA FOR BAR ON WAR IS MADE PUBLIC

sor of Kyoto University and Nobel prize winner for physics.

Prof. Joseph Rotblat, professor of physics at London University.

Prof. C. F. Powell, of Bristol University, England.

Russell announced that Jean Frederic Joliot-Curie, French Nobel prize winner for chemistry, sent his approval too late for the prepared statement.

Nine Rejections.

The nine rejections were:

Lord Adrain of Britain, physicist at Trinity College, who said it would prejudice his job.

Prof. Alexander Haddow, British professor of experimental pathology, who gave the same reply.

Niels Bohr, the Danish physicist and Nobel prize winner, who said no "because no attention was paid to his own open letter to the United Nations."

Dr. H. J. Bhabda, Indian nuclear physicist, who said signing might prejudice his official work.

Max Born, German scientist and interpreter of Einstein, who has "his own scheme afoot."

Prof. Otto Hahn of Germany, Nobel prize winner for chemistry, who Russell said also had a scheme of his own.

Dr. W. Pauli (background not given) who "doesn't think a Congress will do any good."

Dr. Karl Manne Siegbahn of Sweden, physicist, who said, "No, no use."

Soviet Academician Skobeltzyn who said no, but was in agreement with the idea.

Russell said he received no reply from: Compton, American Nobel prize winner for physics; Prof. Harold E. Urey, American Nobel prize winner for chemistry; or I Sze Kuang, Chinese physicist.

Compton, former chancellor of Washington University, is now distinguished service professor of natural philosophy at that institution.

Worked With Einstein.

Russell, now Earl Russell, said the first move in getting out the document "came as a collaboration between Einstein and myself."

The statement evolved after a broadcast Russell made last December about thermo-nuclear warfare, the British philosopher said. After the broadcast he received letters from many people. He then told of writing to Einstein, telling him that he thought men of science could "do something."

"I had a letter from him agreeing with every word," Russell declared.

Saying he received the letter on the day the famous scientist died, the Briton added:

"It would be about the very last public action of his life."

Russell disclosed Einstein suggested the Danish physicist, Bohr, also one of the key men behind the atom bomb, take a leading role in the development of the appeal but Bohr declined.

Russell said on March 4 Einstein wrote him asking him to take over the enterprise as "dictator" and give orders.

Russell said the atomic bomb of Hiroshima was now "ancient history "like bows and arrows."

'Popular Campaign.'

Asked if it was necessary to have a popular campaign in the East as well as the West for a bar on war so as to avert the use of nuclear weapons, Russell said:

"It is very vital now to have a popular campaign. I think the American Government has already been influenced toward sanity by popular opinion and I think if popular opinion had been a little less impressed the American Government might have made some very disastrous mistakes in handling Far Eastern questions."

Russell was asked if he thought Red China would have an atomic or hydrogen bomb in the immediate future.

"I don't know about the immediate future," Russell replied. "It is quite clear they will have it sooner or later."

In issuing the statement, Russell said:

"It makes clear that neither side can hope for victory in such a nuclear war and that there is a very real danger of the extermination of the human race by dust and rain from radioactive clouds."

It has been stated on good authority, he added, that a bomb can now be manufactured which will be 2500 times as powerful as that which destroyed Hiroshima.

Russell issued the statement just nine days before the British, French, Russian and United States leaders meet at Geneva to discuss ways of easing world tension in the H-bomb age.

He said he was sending copies to all the "powerful" governments of the world.

Text of Scientists' Statement Urging World Avoid New War

London, July 9 (AP)

Following is the text of a statement issued today by Earl Russell (Bertrand Russell) and signed by the late Albert Einstein and other eminent scientists:

IN the tragic situation which confronts humanity we feel that scientists should assemble in conference to appraise the perils that have arisen as a result of the development of weapons of mass destruction, and to discuss a resolution in the spirit of the appended draft.

We are speaking on this occasion, not as members of this or that nation, continent or creed, but as human beings, members of the species man, whose continued existence is in doubt. The world is full of conflicts, and, overshadowing all minor conflicts, the titanic struggle between Communism and anti-Communism.

Almost everybody who is politically conscious has strong feelings about one or more of these issues. But we want you, if you can, to set aside such feelings and consider yourselves only as members of a biological species which has had a remarkable history, and whose disappearance none of us can desire.

All Are in Peril.

We shall try to say no single word which should appeal to one group rather than to another. All, equally, are in peril, and if the peril is understood, there is hope that they may collectively avert it.

We have to learn to think in a new way. We have to learn to ask ourselves not what steps can be taken to give military victory to whatever group we prefer, for there no longer are such steps; the question we have to ask ourselves is: What steps can be taken to prevent a military contest of which the issue must be disastrous to all parties?

The general public, and even many men in position of authority, have not realized what would be involved in a war with nuclear bombs. The general public still thinks in terms of the obliteration of cities. It is understood that the new bombs are more powerful than the old, and that, while one A-bomb could obliterate Hiroshima, one H-bomb could obliterate the largest cities, such as London, New York, and Moscow.

No doubt in an H-bomb war great cities would be obliterated. But this is one of the minor disasters that would have to be faced. If everybody in London, New York and Moscow were exterminated, the world might, in the course of a few centuries, recover from the blow. But we now know, especially since the Bikini test, that nuclear bombs can gradually spread destruction over a very much wider area than had been supposed.

It is stated on very good authority that a bomb can now be manufactured which will be 2500 times as powerful as that which destroyed Hiroshima.

Value of Renunciation.

Although an agreement to renounce nuclear weapons as part of a general reduction of armaments would not afford an ultimate solution, it would serve certain purposes.

First: Any agreement between East and West is to the good in so far as it would tend to diminish tension.

Second: The abolition of thermonuclear weapons, if each side believed that the other had carried it out sincerely, would lessen the fear of a sudden attack in the style of Pearl Harbor, which at present keeps both sides in a state of nervous apprehension.

We should therefore welcome such an agreement, though only as a first step.

Most of us are not neutral in feeling, but, as human beings, we have to remember that, if the issues between East and West are to be decided in any manner that can give any possible satisfaction to anybody, whether Communist or anti-Communist, whether Asian or European or American, whether white or black, then these issues must not be decided by war. We should wish this to be understood, both in the East and in the West.

Progress or Death.

There lies before us, if we choose, continual progress in happiness, knowledge and wisdom. Shall we, instead, choose death because we cannot forget our quarrels? We appeal, as human beings, to human beings: Remember your humanity, and forget the rest. If you can do so, the way lies open to a new paradise; if you cannot, there lies before you the risk of universal death.

RESOLUTION: We invite this congress, and through it the scientists of the world and the general public, to subscribe to the following:

In view of the fact that in any future world war nuclear weapons will certainly be employed, and that such weapons threaten the continued existence of mankind, we urge the governments of the world to realize and to acknowledge publicly, that their purpose cannot be furthered by a world war, and we urge them, consequently, to find peaceful means for the settlement of all matters of dispute between them.

(Signed)

Prof. Percy W. Bridgman (Harvard University, foreign member of Royal Society, London, Nobel prize for physics.)

Albert Einstein.

Prof. Leopold Infeld (University of Warsaw; member of Polish Academy of Sciences; joint author with Einstein of "The Evolution of Physics" and "The Problem of Motion.")

Prof. Hermann J. Muller (formerly a professor in Moscow, India, etc., now at Indiana University; Nobel prize in physiology and medicine for discovery of the production of mutations with the help of X-rays).

Prof. Cecil F. Powell (Bristol University, Britain; Nobel prize for physics.)

Prof. Joseph Rotblat (professor of physics in the University of London, at St. Bartholomew's Hospital Medical College.)

Bertrand Russell.

Prof. Hideki Yukawa (Kyoto University; Nobel prize for physics.)

(Russell announced that France's Jean Frederic Joliet-Curie, Nobel prize winner for chemistry, sent his approval but too late for the prepared statement).

Notice to the Press.

The statement was preceded by a notice to the press signed by Russell which said:

The accompanying statement, which has been signed by some of the most eminent scientific authorities in different parts of the world, deals with the perils of a nuclear war. It makes it clear that neither side can hope for victory in such a war, and that there is a very real danger of the extermination of the human race by dust and rain from radioactive clouds.

It suggests that neither the public nor the governments of the world are adequately aware of the danger. It points out that an agreed prohibition of nuclear weapons, while it might be useful in lessening tension, would not afford a solution, since such weapons would certainly be manufactured and used in a great war in spite of previous agreements to the contrary.

The only hope for mankind is the avoidance of war—to call for a way of thinking which shall make such avoidance possible is the purpose of this statement.

Collaboration With Einstein.

The first move came as a collaboration between Einstein and myself. Einstein's signature was given in the last week of his life. Since his death I have approached men of scientific competence both in the East and in the West, for political disagreements should not influence men of science in estimating what is probable, but some of those approached have not yet replied. I am bringing the warning pronounced by the signatories to the notice of all the powerful governments of the world in the earnest hope that they may agree to allow their citizens to survive.

Next was a "letter to heads of state" signed by Russell. It follows:

I enclose a statement, signed by some of the most eminent authorities on nuclear warfare, pointing out the danger of utter and irretrievable disaster which would be involved in such warfare, and the consequent necessity of finding some other way than war by which international disputes can be settled. It is my earnest hope that you will give public expression to your opinion as to the problem dealt with in this statement, which is the most serious that ever confronted the human race.

CHINA REDS DELAY FOR DAY RELEASE OF 3 AMERICANS

Men Now Due at Hong Kong at Midnight — Peiping Lays Postponement to British.

HONG KONG, July 9 (UP)—The British charge d'affaires in Peiping has been informed by the Chinese Red Cross that the three former American soldiers who want to go home now will arrive at the border at 1 p.m. Sunday (midnight tonight), the Hong Kong government announced.

The three men originally were scheduled to arrive here today. The Communist Chinese announced that their release had been postponed because the men had not received transit visas from the Hong Kong authorities.

British authorities moved quickly lest the Reds make propaganda of the situation and sent formal assurances to Peiping that the three would be admitted to this British colony.

Conditional Entry.

British officials said the entry of the three Americans would be conditional under Hong Kong law and the government still would not issue formal transit visas.

The three men are William A. Cowart, 22 years old, of Dalton, Ga.; Otho G. Bell, 24, Olympia, Wash., and Lewis W. Griggs, 23, Jacksonville, Tex. They were among 21 American soldiers captured by the Communists during the Korean war who refused repatriation.

"Formal authorization had not been previously given because of the necessity of consultation with authorities in London and Washington," the Hong Kong government announcement said.

The British Red Cross reported it received a cable from the Chinese Red Cross saying the men would not arrive in Hong Kong as scheduled today because they had not received the transit visas.

Said to Be in Canton.

The three men were reported waiting in Canton, about 70 miles from here.

A Hong Kong government spokesman explained that the British embassy in Peiping had refused to issue visas to Hong Kong which would have permitted the men to go through the colony to the destination of their choice. At least one, Cowart, was reported at one time as stating a preference for Japan.

The spokesman said that this type of visa could not be granted because the men did not have valid travel documents. He said the British offered only conditional entry to Hong Kong inasmuch as the United States Government had doubts about the exact status of the citizenship of the three dishonorably discharged soldiers.

United States officials here, on the basis of the earlier announcements, had arranged hotel accommodations and ship passage to the United States for the three men.

POLICE SAY NOE GAVE IMPORTANT LEADS ON KOENIG RACING SERVICE

Details Withheld Pending Check — Some Parts of Previous Statement Retracted By Former 'Runner.'

East St. Louis police investigating the mysterious murder of gambler J. Fred Koenig today were checking leads given to them about Koenig's affairs yesterday by Ernest (Red) Noe, who formerly worked as a "runner" for him.

Chief of Police George Dowling said Noe, who signed a written statement, had furnished important information about details of the racing-results service operated by Koenig. Contents of the statement, Dowling said, would not be made public until the investigation has been completed.

Noe, a member of the AFL Laborers' Union, retracted part of a previous statement he had given police about threats received by Koenig that he would "get hurt" if he did not quit operating a racing-results service in competition with a service conducted by associates of Frank (Buster) Wortman, East Side gang boss.

He said he had made up the story, in which he told of Koenig being visited by a man named "Gordon Richards," because police officers conducting the interrogation had threatened to harass him.

Squeezed Out April 1.

Koenig was operating the racing-results service with the approval of the Wortman syndicate until April 1. On that date the business was taken over by members of Wortman's group.

Police have found that Koenig continued to give service to handbook operators in the St. Louis area after April 1. On May 17 two of his associates, Birney T. (Chick) Havey Jr. and Kenneth Mueller, were fired upon by unknown assailants in East St. Louis, and Koenig's body, with two bullet holes in it, was found in the trunk of his automobile in East St. Louis June 22.

Noe, who was released after several hours of questioning yesterday, refused to discuss the Koenig case with a Post-Dispatch reporter. He said he had been unable to find work since he became involved in the investigation.

Smith Released.

Everett (Warpy) Smith, a former St. Louis handbook operator, was questioned for several hours yesterday about reports he was one of Koenig's customers. He denied that he ever had any business connections with Koenig, and said he knew Koenig only socially.

Smith, who lives at 33 Vieux Carre drive, East St. Louis, was released from custody after the questioning. Smith's wife, Frances, owns some horses running at Fairmount race track. Koenig also had an interest in several horses racing there.

An examination of tax records in the St. Clair county courthouse at Belleville showed that the Board of Review granted Wortman a $7750 reduction in the assessed valuation of his pretentious home at No. 2 Summit drive, Caseyville Township, earlier this year.

The home, reported to have been built at a cost in excess of $100,000, was assessed at $32,790 in 1953. Wortman paid a $922 tax bill on this valuation last December and then filed a protest.

Acting on the protest, the Board of Review reduced the assessed valuation to $25,040. The tax bill for 1954, which Wortman has not yet paid, amounts to $728.

Wortman's home is located in a subdivision near Collinsville, which is in Madison county. The house, however, is just across the St. Clair county line.

ST. LOUIS GIRL KILLED IN ILLINOIS ACCIDENT

3 Hurt When Auto Runs off Curve West of New Baden.

Miss Edith Egan, 1240 Agee court, was killed in an automobile accident yesterday on Illinois Highway 161, three miles west of New Baden. Three other persons were injured, one seriously. All are Negroes.

Their automobile went off the road at a curve and overturned, state highway police reported. Miss Egan, 20 years old, died in an ambulance on the way to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis.

The driver of the car, Eugene Armstrong, was taken to the hospital with serious head injuries. He is 22 and lives at the John Robinson Homes, East St. Louis.

The other two passengers were treated for minor injuries and released. They are Miss Egan's sister, Miss Shirley Egan, 18, of the Agee court address, and Johnnie Dawson, 26, 2119a Cole street.

Two men assisting in erection of the starting ramp for today's Soap Box Derby on the Express Highway suffered minor injuries when an automobile crashed through two barricades and struck them and the ramp at 2 a.m.

James Keys, 3411 Hartford street, was treated for a laceration of the hand. Nicholas Lanigro, 4229 Swan avenue, suffered a bruised back. Police booked the driver, Andrew Thompson, a truck driver, 10525 Mert road, Overland, for driving when intoxicated and careless driving.

Officers said he disregarded their signals to stop. The highway had been closed to traffic while the work was in progress, but Thompson turned into it at Hawk avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Geisler, 2421 Florent avenue, Maplewood, were seriously injured today when their automobile struck a utility pole in the 3600 block of Big Bend boulevard, Maplewood.

Geisler, who was driving, suffered a chest injury and his wife received head injuries. They were taken to St. Louis County Hospital. Geisler, a Union Electric Co. operating engineer, is 48 years old. Mrs. Geisler is 36.

ANTI-REDS IN CHINA SEIZE TOWN, HOLD IT OVERNIGHT

TAIPEI, Formosa, July 9 (AP) — An official Nationalist Chinese news agency reported today that 500 anti-Communist guerrillas captured a town in western Hunan province last month and held it overnight.

The Tatao Agency, operated by the Ministry of the Interior, said the guerrillas wiped out a company of Communist security guards and seized and distributed to the townspeople of Fenghwang a large quantity of food.

The news agency said 50 young men living in the town joined the guerrillas and withdrew with them. Tatao says it has underground sources on the mainland.

SHAH OF IRAN TURNS OVER CROWN LAND TO PEASANTS

The monarch now has distributed more than 200,000 acres of crown land among some 8500 peasants. He started the land distribution in 1952. The peasants make nominal payments of a few dollars a year for the land.

Assessment Boost Called Peril to Tax Structure

figures reported by county assessors for farm land for 1955, ranged from 16 to 100 per cent. Increases over assessor figures for town lots — city and town real estate—in the 26 counties vary from 15 to 85 per cent.

Reason for Selection of 26.

The first 26 counties selected for tax valuation increases were ones which the commission determined, by surveys and ratio studies based on real estate sales, had 1954 assessed valuations for taxation of less than 20 per cent of true value.

Under the commission plan the next step will be to bring up to the minimum level some 54 counties which the studies indicated had average valuations between 20 and 30 per cent. This will be completed next year. The remaining counties of the 114 have been found to have valuations ranging from 30 per cent to 49.7.

The City of St. Louis, which is considered both a city and county, had an average assessed valuation of 34.68 per cent of true value in 1954.

County Completes Compliance.

One of the 26 counties, Christian, completed compliance with the commission requriements before the orders were prepared this week.

Valuations ordered by the commission, when applied by local county boards of equalization and assessors to farm land and town property, will be subject to local tax rates for 1955.

The following tabulation shows the effect of the tax commission's orders in the 24 counties besides St. Louis and St. Charles counties in which assessed valuations are being raised this year. The list includes the 1954 percentage of assessed value of real estate to true value, the 1954 assessed valuation of all real estate and the valuation for 1955 ordered by the commission.

CHILD IN ADOPTION ROW MISSING, SO IS FOSTER FATHER

DEDHAM, Mass., July 9 (AP) —Probate Court Judge James F. Reynolds has demanded the immediate appearance of Hildy McCoy, the 4-year-old center of a long religious-adoption dispute.

She is in the custody of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ellis of Brookline, a Jewish couple. Her natural mother, Marjorie, who gave her in adoption to the Ellises four years ago, wants her back. The real mother is Roman Catholic.

Her mother is seeking to revoke the adoption under Massachusetts law which says where practicable a child must be given in adoption to foster parents of the same religious faith.

The Ellises, who have had Hildy since she was 10 days old, say they do not believe the child's mother, now Mrs. Marjorie McCoy Doherty of Hingham, wants her. Ellis says he believes the mother wants to give her in adoption to someone else.

Last week Judge Reynolds set a day and hour for the Ellises to surrender the child. They did not appear. They were "out of town." An order went out for Ellis's arrest. Authorities could not find him.

Yesterday Judge Reynolds signed a habeas corpus writ directing Sheriff Samuel Wragg to bring the child before him "forthwith." But first Wragg must find Ellis, who has said he is ready to do anything—possibly even go to jail—to keep Hildy.

ORDER FOR DEPORTATION OF RACKETEER IS UPHELD

WASHINGTON, July 9 (UP) —The Government has again ordered that Cleveland gambler Francesco (Frank) Brancato be deported to his native Italy.

The Board of Immigration Appeals dismissed an appeal by Brancato yesterday and upheld an immigration officer's ruling of last May that the racketeer should be deported. The action was taken because of Brancato's criminal activity in this country.

BOATER FINED $25 FOR SPEEDING ON ILLINOIS RIVER

Arthur M. Neer of East St. Louis was fined $25 yesterday for speeding—in a motorboat on the Illinois river. He pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Arthur Thatcher at Jerseyville, Ill.

Neer, who lives at 1915 Ohio avenue, was arrested Wednesday by Illinois State Police near Pere Marquette State Park on the complaint of another boater. He charged that Neer, while speeding and operating his outboard motor boat in a hazardous manner, damaged his fishing tackle. A fine of $10 to $200 is provided for under the law.

Illinois laws are similar for both rivers and highways. No speed limits are prescribed, but an operator must not exceed speeds that are "reasonable and proper under existing conditions" or operate in such a manner that would endanger life or property.

THREE CHILDREN INJURED IN CARNIVAL RIDE ACCIDENT

INDEPENDENCE, Ky., July 9 (AP)—A carnival ride known as "the whip" hurled five children into the air at an American Legion picnic last night, injuring three of them.

Most seriously hurt was James Beach, 7. His skull was fractured. Lathan Brinkley, 12, suffered a collar-bone fracture, and Alvin Gibson, 14, a possible fractured shoulder.

Volunteer firemen said something went amiss in the electric ride's controls, causing a speedup.

NAMED ARMY OFFICE HEAD

Col. Dick A. King has been named executive officer of the Transportation Supply and Maintenance Command here, it was announced today. The group is the Transportation Corps' field logistics office for the Army's worldwide aviation, rail and marine movements.

Col. King, who lives at 44 Thorncliffe Lane, Kirkwood, came to St. Louis early in 1953 as commanding officer of the Transportation Corp's Army Aviation Field Service office.

CONGRESSMAN INDICTED, DENIES LAND FRAUD PLOT

John J. Bell Accused of Part in $154,810 Conspiracy in Texas Veterans Program.

SEGUIN, Tex., July 9 (AP)— Representative John J. Bell (Dem.), Texas, who helped set up the Texas veterans land program when he was in the State Legislature, was indicted yesterday on charges of conspiring to steal $154,810 from the state in that program.

He immediately denied guilt. He made the same denial when questioned by a state investigating committee earlier. The freshman Congressman said he received some legal fees and that was all.

Indicted with him was T. J. McLarty of Denver, formerly of Cuero, Tex., Bell's home town, and J. T. Wofford of Cuero.

It was from McLarty, Bell said in the state investigation, that he received the legal fees. McLarty was indicted in May on other counts connected with veteran's land deals.

24 Deals Involved.

The indictments against the three involve deals in July 1952 in which 3701 acres of Guadalupe county land were sold to 24 veterans.

The indictment reads: "T. J. McLarty, John J. Bell and T. J. Wofford on or about the fifteenth day of July, 1952, did then and unlawfully conspire . . . to unlawfully and fraudulently take $154,810 (from) . . . the state of Texas. . . ."

The land scandal investigations began less than a year ago. (The exposure was the work of Kenneth Towery, small-town newspaper man from Cuero, who was awarded a Pulitzer prize this year for his first big story.)

Already 318 indictments have been returned, ranging from bribery to false certification of documents.

Bascom Giles, former Land Commissioner and once head of the Veterans Land Board, currently is on trial on charges of $6800 theft. He is indicted on a $30,000 bribery charge. He refused to take office last January, although re-elected as Land Commissioner and automatically as a member of the Veterans Land Board.

Large Tracts Divided.

Most indictments involve block land sales. In this type, promoters buy a large ranch or farm and divide it. These smaller pieces are sold to veterans on long terms, low interest and small down payment. The state then pays the promoter and the veterans pay the state.

Claims have been made that excessive profits were collected and that high-pressure salesmen talked veterans into signing papers without the veteran knowing what the papers concerned. Some veterans have testified they thought they were applying for a veterans' bonus.

PLUMBER LABORERS READY TO STRIKE NEXT THURSDAY

About 450 plumber laborers in St. Louis and St. Louis County will go on strike next Thursday unless an agreement is reached in negotiations with the Contracting Plumbers Association of St. Louis, A. T. Kelly, secretary of the Eastern Missouri Laborers District Council, announced today.

Kelly said the strike vote was taken last night at a meeting of plumber laborers, who are members of Locals 42, 53 and 110 of the AFL Laborers' Union. The men also voted to withdraw a proposal for a one-year contract calling for a 25-cent increase and to demand a two-year contract calling for a 10-cent increase retroactive to July 1, a 15-cent increase Jan. 1, 1956 and an additional 10-cent increase next July 1.

Federal mediators will be asked to sit in on negotiations Monday, Kelly said. Members of the union rejected an offer by employers of an 18-month contract with a 7½-cent hourly wage rise. Under the contract which expired July 1, plumber laborers received $2.42½ an hour.

OFFERS TO PLEAD GUILTY OF PRISON DEATH, RECANTS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CLINTON, Mo., July 9—William R. Hoover, one of the convicts charged with murder in last September's Missouri State Prison riots, was taken by plane from the prison at Jefferson City to Clinton when he announced his intention of pleading guilty yesterday.

In the Henry county circuit court, where his case had been assigned on a change of venue, Hoover conferred briefly with his attorney, Charles S. Stratton of Clinton. Hoover then said he said changed his mind again and still was pleading not guilty.

So he was handcuffed and returned by Missouri state troopers in the plane to Jefferson City. He also is charged with arson and assault with a deadly weapon.

FBI MEN SEIZE PAIR ACCUSED OF BANK ROBBERIES

17-Year-Old Redhead, Termed Dangerous, and Her Boy Friend Captured in Detroit.

DETROIT, July 9 (AP)—A 17-year-old gun-toting redhead and her 27-year-old boy friend were in jail today waiting for holdup victims to try to identify them as the robbers.

Held on combined bonds totaling $100,000 are Lora Lee Ritenour, who Federal Bureau of Investigation agents say is a dangerous, money-crazy female, and Louis Emery Teller, a pistol-carrying bar-bell enthusiast.

They were arraigned late yesterday in United States district court on armed robbery charges after FBI agents flushed them from their apartment hideout.

Although their arraignment took in only a $23,000 Cleveland bank robbery, they have been identified tentatively as the pair who robbed a suburban Detroit jewelry store of $13,000 June 24.

FBI agents quietly herded five apartment house neighbor-families into the basement Thursday night before they surrounded the building and pounded on the couple's door, demanding their surrender. Fearing an exchange of fire when the couple refused to answer the door, the agents tossed a tear-gas bomb through a window.

Shortly afterward, Teller yelled "Don't shoot; I'm coming out." In their apartment police found cheap sex novels, comic books, empty beer bottles and a small arsenal.

United States District Judge Arthur Koscinski held Teller on two bonds—one of $50,000 for the Jan. 14 holdup of a branch of the Cleveland Trust Co., and a $25,000 bond on a charge of having fled to avoid prosecution. Mrs. Ritenour was held under $25,000 bond in the bank robbery.

Ohio police want Teller in connection with a Shaker Heights National Guard armory holdup in which a warrant officer was wounded. Four submachine guns were stolen in that one last March 17. Teller also will be questioned in the $65,000 robbery of another branch of the Cleveland Trust Co. last March 4.

The girl is wanted for still another job—an Akron holdup last May 1.

Police accuse Teller of being one of three armed, masked men who held up the Cleveland Trust branch, and say the girl drove the getaway car. Fourteen employes and 25 customers were terrorized.

TALKS FAIL TO END STRIKE OF ILLINOIS CARPENTERS

Efforts to negotiate a settlement of a wage dispute which has resulted in a strike of carpenters in southern Illinois were unsuccessful after a two-hour conference yesterday at Broadview Hotel in East St. Louis.

Representatives of the Southern Illinois Builders Association and the AFL Tri-Counties Carpenters District Council met with federal conciliators for the first time since the strike began a week ago yesterday.

About 750 carpenters are on strike, halting work on major construction projects in St. Clair, Madison and adjacent counties. Carpenters, who now receive $3.20 an hour, rejected an offer of a 25-cent hourly wage raise over a two-year period and demanded a 30-cent increase and a three-year contract. No further meetings have been scheduled.

CONFIDENTIAL MAGAZINE EDITOR MISSING 3 DAYS

CHICAGO, July 9 (AP)—Police today investigated the disappearance of Howard Rushmore, editor of Confidential, a bimonthly national magazine, who has been missing since early Thursday.

Rushmore, 43 years old, came to Chicago Monday from his home in New York City.

Police said when Rushmore returned to his hotel after appearing on a television program he received a message from the desk clerk that a man who gave the name of Larry had called and asked to meet him at 1:15 a.m. at Roosevelt road and Halsted street.

Rushmore, who is 6 foot 5 inches and weighs 200 pounds, left in a taxicab and police have not found anyone who has seen him since he left the hotel.

MURDER INDICTMENTS NAME 14 TEEN-AGERS

Youths Accused in Chicago Juvenile Gang Killing of 17-Year-Old.

CHICAGO, July 9 (UP)— Fourteen teen-agers were indicted yesterday in the juvenile gang killing of a 17-year-old youth.

Each of the 14 was indicted for murder, assault with intent to murder, conspiracy to commit murder, and bodily injury in the shotgun killing of Kenneth Sleboda July 1.

Among those indicted was Clement (Cookie) Macis, 14, who claims the shotgun he poked from the window of a stolen car discharged accidentally and killed Sleboda.

Meanwhile, a coroner's jury heard from a 15-year-old girl of incidents which contributed to the violence.

She was Judith Barth, who described a fight June 26 in which three youths attacked her boy friend, Eugene O'Brien, one of those indicted. This battle was believed to have instigated the vengeance raid that led to Sleboda's death.

She also admitted that she was with O'Brien, Macis and another member of the gang when they picked up the shotgun used in the killing.

The coroner's jury recommended that the 14 teen-agers be held to the grand jury which had already returned the indictments. They also recommended that Judith Barth be turned over to juvenile authorities.

UNION ELECTRIC'S WAGE NEGOTIATIONS IN RECESS

Negotiations were in recess today between the AFL Operating Engineers and Union Electric Co. but were scheduled for resumption Wednesday in an effort to avert a strike set for midnight July 17 unless agreement is reached on a wage contract.

Negotiators, representing the company and Local 148 of the operating engineers, with 1225 members and seven power plants, were in session all day yesterday. Meetings, in which federal conciliators participated, were held at the company's offices, 315 North Twelfth street.

The company is also in negotiation with two other electrical workers unions. One represents outside distribution employes and the other office and clerical workers.

LACLEDE UNION EXPECTED TO OK NEW CONTRACT

First of Two Membership Meetings Votes Overwhelmingly to Agree to Offer.

Acceptance of a new one-year contract offered by Laclede Gas Co. to the CIO Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers' Union, representing 2000 employes, was indicated today when union members at the first of two membership meetings voted overwhelmingly to accept the company's proposal.

William Wynn, international representative of the union, who with other officers recommended acceptance at a meeting of 400 union members at Teamsters' Hall, 4141 Forest Park avenue, said the decision was based primarily on adjustments in job classifications. The adjustments were agreed to by the company in a series of negotiations since expiration of a contract nine days ago.

Wynn, who will attend a meeting for day shift workers at 8 o'clock tonight, said a company wage offer proposed earlier remained the same. The company offered a 4 per cent across the board increase. It amounted to 8 to 11 cents an hour.

Present earnings for service crew members are about $2.10 an hour. Foremen receive $2.80.

Union members voted last June 30 to accept tentatively the company's wage offer. The contract was extended 10 days for further negotiations on the job classification provisions.

168 HATS STOLEN FROM AUTO IN WEBSTER GROVES

Ernest Gustafson, 441 Newport avenue, Webster Groves, reported to police yesterday theft of 168 hats he valued at $1302 from his automobile, parked in the driveway of his home.

Gustafson, a traveling salesman for Hat Corp. of America, discovered at 8:30 a.m. that his car had been broken into Thursday night. Missing were 166 felt hats of various types, Gustafson's stock, and two straw hats valued at $15 apiece which were his personal property.

The robber left an extra pair of shoes and a raincoat which Gustafson carries in his car.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Driving Without Licenses

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

If you will consult the Missouri drivers' guide, prepared by the Department of Revenue, you will observe that certain tests, written and driving, are required of people either learning to drive, resuming driving, or who permit their driver's license to lapse.

Now in the entire St. Louis and St. Louis county area there are only three license bureaus where people can accomplish these tests.

The three locations are all undermanned, crowded beyond belief and consequently cannot provide the service desired or intended.

The operating hours, lack of personnel and wide dispersion of locations make it difficult, costly and very inconvenient for people to comply with the law regarding permits and licenses. Thus many people disregard the law and are driving not only illegally, but in total ignorance of the traffic laws.

I might ask what you would do if you had to be docked in pay because you had to travel from South St. Louis to North Grand to comply with the law? Or if you had to travel from Overland to Maplewood?

A good comparison is the City of Chicago and Cook county surrounding it. I am informed, that there are 22 license bureaus in that area serving a population about two and a half times larger than here.

Current conditions are capable of solutions, among which are: (1) Keep license bureaus open evenings several nights a week and all day Saturday; (2) increase the number of license bureaus. City and county police stations, as law-enforcing agencies, can be permitted to perform tests; county community city halls can be permitted to perform tests.

Traffic law enforcement is the responsibility of municipalities and not of the state or the state police alone.

H. N. HAHN.

Open for Business

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Now that the Missouri Supreme Court has upheld the validity of the new St. Louis County Police Department and the department is, as of July 1, a fait accompli, I want to tell you what a tremendous job the Post-Dispatch did.

From the time the citizens' commission was first appointed through the deliberations, the recommendations and the campaign for the charter amendment and, finally, during the litigation to establish the department's validity, there was never a time that your response in the public's interest was not only prompt but effective.

It is impossible to overemphasize your contribution to the success of the whole enterprise. I personally want to thank and acknowledge my indebtedness to you and all of your staff. ARTHUR B. SHEPLEY JR.

Preserving Property, Too

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

In a recent "My Day" column, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt defends the slogan of the A.D.A. liberals that property rights should be "secondary" to human rights.

She points to the Declaration of Independence to indicate that our Founding Fathers substituted "pursuit of happiness" for "property" in John Locke's principle that "the triple aim of government could be defined as the preservation of life, liberty and property."

What Mrs. Roosevelt does not tell us is that, 15 years later, when our Founding Fathers wrote the Bill of Rights, they went back to "life, liberty and property" as the three human rights which the Constitution should guarantee. The Fifth Amendment constitutionalizes the principle that property rights are human rights worthy of the same protection as life and liberty. Property per se has no rights—only people have rights. It is not the right of property which the Fifth Amendment protects, but the right to property.

It is strange that use of Fifth Amendment language to protect Communists is approved by Mrs. Roosevelt and the A.D.A. liberals, but use of Fifth Amendment language to protect the human right to property is rejected by Mrs. Roosevelt.

Mrs. Roosevelt was chairman of the U.N. Commission on Human Rights, which refused to recognize the right to own property as a human right. By repudiating the institution of private property, the U.N. Covenant on Human Rights is an assault on the Fifth Amendment.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Your Raymond P. Brandt's summary on Russia is the most dangerous propaganda this country can be exposed to at this time.

Just when realistic American policy is needed, he would soften us up for the "inexperienced" Communists. How foolish can we get? The Russian leaders are not inexperienced, nor are they foolish or helpless. They are the same tough Reds who have been ruling Russia and ruining her for 40 years.

Fortunately we had an opportunity, at San Francisco, to see the "new look"—and found it the old Communist plot. Unfortunately, Mr. Brandt didn't have an opportunity to see it clearly in Russia.

The 1955 Illinois Session

Back in the '90s when Congress was criticized for appropriating a billion dollars for the first time for the operations of the Federal Government, Speaker Thomas Brackett Reed of Maine retorted that the United States had become "a billion-dollar country." Several of the states have now become "billion-dollar states" and one of these is Illinois.

The 1955 Illinois Legislature, which has completed the state's regular biennial session, passed appropriations in the neighborhood of $1,750,000,000—the greatest total in the history of Illinois. Not all these appropriations will become law for already Gov. Stratton is using his veto pen. One of the first post-session vetoes kills the extra-budgetary bill by which the legislators would have increased their own salaries from $5000 to $6000. Other pay increases were voted for state employes and for state and circuit judges.

One of the largest items approved was that for state aid for public schools. This alone accounts for $200,000,000. Increased outlays for state institutions, including mental hospitals, ran up so high that Gov. Stratton took the extreme step of obtaining a two-year increase in the state sales tax from 2 cents on the dollar to 2½ cents to produce an estimated $100,000,000. This has touched off considerable grass roots criticism and already there is talk of political reprisals.

The outstanding act of the session was the passage of the legislative reapportionment bill. Although the Illinois Constitution calls for redistricting for the Legislature after each decennial census, there has been no reapportionment in Illinois since 1901—for 54 years!

Under the compromise worked out, seats in the House of Representatives will be filled according to population of districts. This will give Cook county a majority of the 177 seats in the reconstituted House. Senate districts are now fixed so a comfortable majority of the 58 Senators will be retained by downstate.

This responsibility to recognize population changes could not be discharged without throwing some sitting legislators in the same districts. In view of the struggles over these conflicts in interests, it is a wonder that as much else got done in the session as the final record shows.

Another major enactment was the passage of a new state personnel code which has been described by the word "revolutionary" in its possibilities for good. This legislation, sponsored by Speaker Wood of Plainfield, Representative Powell of Vienna, Senator Drach of Springfield and several others, would create a full-fledged Department of Personnel with a Director of cabinet status in the Governor's official family.

Over the next two years the new Director of Personnel and his staff are to prepare a position classification plan and pay plan, set up a personnel organization and take other steps in anticipation of changing from the long-outmoded 1905 personnel code to a modern system, July 1, 1957. This reform was kicked around by the Senate in the closing hours of the session.

One constitutional amendment was submitted to the voters: a change in the revenue article that would allow legislative taxation of property by classes. Both parties supported this proposal and there was almost enough support to get another proposed amendment to the voters, that to overhaul and modernize the judicial system. But it failed by a narrow margin and now goes over to a later session.

Good bills passed included one to allow ill and disabled persons to vote by absentee ballot, one for the care of prematurely born babies and another for a 60-day cooling-period before divorce. Good bills lost included the "right-to-know" bill sponsored by Representative Simon of Troy. It was good riddance when most of the perennial Broyles legislation was junked, leaving Gov. Stratton only a loyalty oath to veto. It was also good riddance when the school textbook censorship bill was killed.

A good bill that lost was that for an open primary to encourage primary voting by independents. Among the worst bills to go through were those sponsored by the truck lobby including approval for increasing truck-trailer length from 45 to 50 feet. And sooner or later there will need to be an investigation, defeated this year, of the toll road commission and its activities.

As for Gov. Stratton he won some fights and lost others. It will be interesting to see how the grass roots leaders in his own party size him up after his second legislative session, and hence, the completion, legislatively, of the term to which he was elected in 1952.

Refunding the Earnings Tax

The June 30 deadline for filing claims for refunds on 1954 St. Louis city earnings tax payments has come and gone, and preliminary figures indicate that only about one taxpayer in eight asked for a refund.

That indicates something is wrong somewhere, and it suggests that Mayor Tucker and Collector Del L. Bannister ought to put their heads together and find out just what. This ought not to be too difficult. Taxpayers have complained that, in view of the small size of their potential refunds, it is just too much bother to wade through all the red tape required for a refund.

Some taxpayers have even suggested—a bit uncharitably, perhaps—that a Republican Mayor and a Republican Collector might be able to devise a painless system of refunds. In any event, Mr. Tucker and Mr. Bannister have a year to devise a happier scheme. May they make the most of the time.

Jersey Joe in a New Role

When Jersey Joe Walcott lost his world heavyweight boxing championship in 1952 he went immediately into social service work at Camden, N.J., in the field of juvenile delinquency. He felt that he knew a lot about children since he had been one of several in a poverty-stricken family and years later had acquired six children of his own.

But there were Doubting Thomases who wondered what a former pugilist could do for the good of delinquent children. They got their answer when the big, gentle-voiced boxer with the kindly face appeared as a witness last Wednesday before a Senate Labor subcommittee that is studying juvenile delinquency bills.

"If I'm nervous it's because this is a new role for me," he told the Senators. He spoke so softly they could hardly hear him at times. Poverty? He told how he had known it for years but he did not think it was a determining factor. Discrimination? It is tough but with faith in God and ambition "you can be successful no matter what minority group you belong to." Juvenile delinquency?

Then he got down to the heart of his message. He did not think those words fit the situation at all. What did? As he put it: "Actually and to a large extent what we have to deal with is parent delinquency." That was where Jersey Joe, ex-prize fighter, put his finger on a major cause of juvenile delinquency. And that ought to have dispelled any doubts as to his fitness in his new field.

The Risks of Geneva

To the British Prime Minister, Sir Anthony Eden, going to Geneva means a prudent risk, a risk worth taking since it could lead to a unified and peaceful Europe. In explaining this to the English-Speaking Union, the Prime Minister frankly acknowledged that Geneva is also a risk for the Russians—but that Britain, and probably the other Western powers too, are ready to give practical assurances to offset this.

The problem of Europe, as Sir Anthony sees it, is the problem of Germany. So long as Germany is divided, Europe is divided. So he hopes that the "meeting at the summit" will lead to reunification by free elections. Quite frankly, he hopes that such a united Germany would associate itself with the Western powers.

Thus Moscow may speculate about an attack spearheaded by this new Germany. To allay this apprehension, he proposes a treaty guaranteeing Russia against aggression. Plans already are being made to limit arms in Europe, especially in Germany, through the Western European Union, and the Prime Minister sees no reason why Russia should not become a member of this group.

On the other hand, Moscow need not expect that Great Britain, for one, will break up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization or that it will break away from the United States. Instead of yielding in advance to all the implications of the latest phase of Russian diplomacy, the Prime Minister will be going to Geneva for "a good look at the new look."

Sir Anthony hopes that mistrust can be allayed, but he is not mistaking his hope for a fact. Personally, he is approaching the situation created by the Russian change of line with hope that a European settlement may be possible. He believes that the West can make contributions to such a settlement. But he is not ready to sacrifice Western strength for Russian favor.

If Moscow is in the same mood, careful and honorable agreements between strong governments become possible. If the Russians are stubborn, the best prospect will be stalemate. For guarantees, the Russians must be reasonable. Such are the realities.

Poor Area for Test Flights

From the evidence it may be deduced that Albert Seawell Jr. sacrificed himself to save others when he died in the crash landing of the jet fighter he had just taken off in from Lambert-St. Louis Field. James S. McDonnell, president of McDonnell Aircraft Corp., says that the landing on Bellerive Country Club grounds was "a masterful effort to avoid hitting any homes or crashing on the crowded highway."

Test flying is one of the most hazardous professions. Accidents are to be expected. Two other McDonnell test pilots have been killed this year, one at Carrollton, Ill., and the other at Grafton, Ill., in rural areas. In accidents over sparsely settled areas, the pilot does not have to worry over a disabled plane hitting persons, homes or traffic on crowded highways. Mr. McDonnell says that he and the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics have been working on plans for an airport in a sparsely settled area within 100 miles of St. Louis for the testing of new planes.

That would be a good way to insure against the danger that the Bellerive Country Club ground crash warns is inherent in making test flights from Lambert-St. Louis Field.

Five Arguments for a Roadblock

The five St. Louis County Council members who voted against the Daniel Boone Expressway route are now busy explaining why they did so.

Councilman Frank L. Martini of Maplewood, the principal objector, still insists his constituents want a more southerly route. Yet even while he spoke many Richmond Heights residents who live along the proposed route were preparing a meeting to protest the County Council's vote.

Councilman Maurice Abramson of University City says he went along with Martini but still has "an open mind."

Councilman Thomas Dunne of Jennings says he is not opposed to the route, but thinks there ought to be agreement on it before the council approves it. Yet the council itself is the place to reach such an agreement and Dunne's vote did not help.

Councilmen Harold L. Carey of Webster Groves and James J. McNary of Pine Lawn object that the proposed Boone route would crowd the already-crowded Express Highway. This argument has been answered in full by engineers of the State Highway Commission.

The engineers have found that the cause of traffic jams on the Express Highway is bottlenecks at both ends. The highway is capable of handling increased traffic well into the future if those bottlenecks are removed by grade separations, and that is just what completion of the Boone route will do. When the Express Highway can no longer handle all the traffic, the state plans to build an addition to it.

In short, the arguments of these five council members do not add up to the best interests of their constituents, to sound highway engineering or to any kind of progress at all. These explanations leave a lot of unpaved ground for reconsideration.

Comfort in Khaki

The United States Air Force seems bound and determined to look as if it were turned out of the same cloth as the R.A.F. and, winter blues aside, there are times and places when that might not be a bad idea. The lads of the Royal Air Force know how to be comfortable in khaki. And at bases hugging the equator, who could ask for anything more?

Nobody, the USAF seems to be convinced. So it has now gone hog wild and approved a summer uniform that includes a choice of shorts or long trousers, a sleeveless shirt worn with or without a necktie and a bush jacket. In tropical areas, the pith helmet that the late Frank Buck used taming tigers is optional equipment.

The happy joker in this whole business, fortunately, is that the uniform will not be uniform everywhere. Local commanders will decide which combinations of the new line will or will not be worn by their men. Commanders being conservative by nature—that is how they get to be commanders—very few airmen are likely to be parading the streets of St. Louis in shorts and bush coats.

On the whole, this strikes us as a wise policy. Nobody should be forced to appear in such a getup on the streets of any city where he might be recognized. In Cairo or Calcutta, all right; in St. Louis or elsewhere in the Air Force recruiting area, never! It is needlessly cruel to break a man's spirit, even for his own comfort.

Two Oil Men on the Gas Issue

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Both criticize article by Senator Douglas of Illinois predicting rise in natural gas prices under bills now in Congress; say field price has been kept down by competition and regulation would not help; problem now is to supply enough gas.

Two Letters to the Post-Dispatch

Your editorial, "Light on Natural Gas" in your June 27 paper quotes Senator Douglas as saying "the unregulated price of natural gas at the well-head in the Southwest has gone up in the last nine years." What hasn't?

(Editor's Note: Our editorial quoted Senator Douglas as saying the unregulated price of natural gas at the well-head has gone up 120 per cent in the last nine years.)

The facts are that in 1945 producers were receiving 4.14 cents per M.C.F. (thousand cubic feet) in Louisiana and Texas. In 1953 they received 8.86 cents per M.C.F., but in terms of 1945 dollars this translates to 5.53 cents, an increase of 33 per cent, in face of constantly increasing demand.

Senator Douglas, you say, estimates that the "no regulation" bills in the Congress could be expected to cost consumers about $600,000,000 a year. I find he did not make such direct statement, but the Senator carefully referred to some estimates by unnamed "others" to get this fantastic figure.

The story is going around in the industry that, "A man once said that if gas were selling for as much as it is worth, in comparison to coal and oil, it would bring 25 cents per M.C.F." Instead of citing this to show what a bargain natural gas is today at an average cost of 10 cents per M.C.F., you infer that gas will hit the ceiling—that overnight the price will multiply two and one-half times—but over the 16-year period, from 1938 the retail price of gas increased by less than an eleventh as much as the cost of living.

Exceptional Output Control

You point out that only 175 big producers control 90 per cent of the natural gas production, which you consider monopolistic. Actually, such widespread distribution of control over output is exceptional in American industry.

Two of the three parts of the natural gas industry are properly controlled utilities. The third part, which accounts for only 10 per cent of the price the consumer pays, representing the amount the producer receives, is competitive, and presently in the hands of approximately 8000 producers. The so-called "no regulation" bills in the Congress actually do regulate the price that can be charged to the consumer in so far as the cost of the natural gas is concerned. The bills give the Federal Power Commission the responsibility of permitting the utilities to pass on to the consumer that part of the cost of natural gas which they determine to be a fair price.

Our position is supported by the President's Cabinet-level Fuels Policy Committee, by the Federal Power Commission, by hosts of organizations who view with alarm the further control and regulation of our business system by Government bureaus. R. W. MAY,
Manager, St. Louis Branch,
Standard Oil Co. (Indiana).

Senator Douglas's article on natural gas is one of the most cleverly worded pieces of demagogic appeal to the consuming public that I have ever read.

You speak of Senator Douglas as being an expert on consumer protection. The Senator is one of those politicians who insist upon highest guaranteed prices for agricultural products. It would be interesting if the Senator would come up with some figures indicating how many millions and billions of dollars he has "saved" consumers through these Government guarantees.

He starts with the inference that the powerful and wicked oil industry (in which I am a small independent producer) if it has its way in the present Congress, will gouge the public to the tune of $600,000,000 a year through a sort of monopoly of natural gas. Then he goes on with a set of general statements and arguments to the effect that competition for natural gas is so keen that this very competition will be a menace to the price paid by the consumer. You can't have a monopoly and a competitive market at the same time and it would seem to me that any politician claiming to be an economist should know this.

The fundamental issue is whether or not the Federal Government shall have the power to set the price for a raw material at its source. If the Government has this power over the gas producer, then precedent is established for power over all other fuels, minerals, steel, timber, agricultural products, etc.

Relation Between Gas and Oil

The Senator would place the production of natural gas on a public utility basis. A public utility envisions an exclusive franchise and a guaranteed percentage of earnings based upon total capital investment and costs. Exploration for oil and gas is an extremely hazardous undertaking.

Records indicate that one major gas field is discovered out of approximately 40 dry holes drilled for gas. It is easy to figure costs on the discovery well that brings in the field, plus production costs after discovery. Apparently these are the figures the Senator would use in setting up a utility price for the product. What about the 39 dry holes drilled before the discovery well?

Gas and oil are related and are in a good many instances produced in the same hole. How would the Senator differentiate the costs? I think I know. The Senator, having put natural gas prices under government control, would then seek to place the entire crude oil industry under federal price control.

It would be funny, if it weren't so dangerous, how every time these government control boys want something, they start yelling their heads off, predicting dire disaster unless they get their way.

Control at the Wellhead

Before crying "wolf," "wolf," and prophesying the dire things that will happen to the consumer if the price at the wellhead is not placed under federal control, the Senator should prove to the public that it has been gouged by wellhead gas prices previous to the Supreme Court decision of June 1954. According to the Department of Labor's cost of living index, available to the Senator and not quoted in his article, but presented to the Congress, we find that the cost of living as a whole rose 49.7 per feet from June 1945 to June 1954.

The price of gas of all types to household users increased 12 per cent during the same period. Is the price to the consumer to be the test for federal control on any and all products?

A good part of the Senator's smoke screen delves into the question of pipeline and publicity utility earnings. These have nothing to do with the question of federal price control at the wellhead. If there is any monopoly, it is not among the producers, but in the field of utilities and pipelines which have been under federal control for years.

The big problem for the consumer is not the price of gas at the wellhead; it is one of obtaining an adequate supply. Supply is limited only by transportation facilities. There are 300,000 applicants, unable to obtain natural gas, in the greater Chicago area alone.

The truth is that gas has become popular, as a clean and cheap fuel, under the free enterprise system. Regulation did not bring this about. It is not indicated now. ALF R. THOMPSON.

A 20th Century Brain

STEINMETZ: MAKER OF LIGHTNING, by Sigmund A. Lavine. (Dodd, Mead. 241 pgs., $3.)

Charles Proteus Steinmetz, with his small, twisted body, was one of the great scientific brains of the twentieth century. Mathematician, physicist and chemist, he was employed by General Electric, paid no salary and given no directions.

Each year a large sum was made available to him and what he needed he used—what was left was returned to the company. He carried out no particular lines of work but was free to pursue whatever problems interested him, and to assist others who brought their problems to him.

Charles P. Steinmetz

Such a character lends himself to a biography, and Mr. Lavine makes the most of it. Steinmetz's life is well presented in an easy and sympathetic style. The book's weaknesses probably derive principally from these characteristics, too, as the writing is almost too simple, and the tone completely adulatory. It is hard to believe that Steinmetz was wholly without fault and that anyone could be quite so lovable—in fact, reading between the lines some of his habits would seem to make him most difficult.

It is also unfortunate that Mr. Lavine was not qualified and talented enough to describe in lay terms just what Steinmetz's major contributions were, though it is true that this would be a most difficult task.

Nevertheless, the book is an interesting story of a fascinating figure, and Steinmetz comes alive in it better than most scientists have in their biographies.

Seven Times Since 1775

AMERICAN MILITARY POLICY, by C. Joseph Bernardo and Eugene H. Bacon. (Military Service Publishing Co., $5.)

Two young military historians have combined to write this history of our military policy since Independence. For so unmilitary a nation as ourselves, it is surprising how often we have had to go to war. What is worse, in the opinion of the authors, is that seven times since 1775 we have begun wars with an inadequate army, built a fighting force in a race against time, and then dismantled our military machine as quickly as possible after victory. Their review of our fluctuating military policies is valuable if only for the way it points up our tendency to commit the same errors each time, as, for example, premature demobilization.

The authors draw attention to the rivalries of the three services today, despite all efforts at unification, and urge us to keep a strong military establishment in the cold war. A lucid and logical survey, though one wishes the authors had not relied quite so much on quotations from magazines and newspapers.

The Expectant Father

FROM HERE TO MATERNITY, by Peter Rabe. (Vanguard. $1.95.)

This unassuming opus is dedicated to the trials and tribulations of expectant fathers, of whom one gathers, the author was one. This is what the anxious pop goes through while baby is on the way. And when he says "on the way," Mr. Rabe means "all the way," for his book begins with the very first intimation of the happy event and continues to the opening gurgle of the new arrival. It must have been an educational as well as amusing experience for our author, judging by the details he has recorded in word and picture. Parents will laud his perceptive eye and skillful pen. Prospective parents might do worse than brace themselves for their ordeal with this little volume.

WILSON OPPOSES RUSSELL PLAN FOR VETERANS

Secretary Says Reserves Need Experienced Men—Senator Sticks By His Proposal.

WASHINGTON, July 9 (UP)—Chairman Richard B. Russell of the Senate Armed Services Committee today stuck by his plan to put military reserve service for veterans on a voluntary basis despite the opposition of Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson.

"I think I have got the best plan," Russell said. Under his proposal, veterans would not be required to participate in the reserves, but any who volunteered for three years in the combat reserve of the Army and Marine Corps would receive a $400 bonus.

Wilson urged Russell yesterday to accept the Administration plan of compelling service men to participate in the reserves following their tour of active duty.

Experience Needed, Says Wilson.

In a letter to Russell, Wilson said the compulsory provision is necessary to insure a "hard core" of experienced, trained personnel needed for the reserves.

But Russell expressed confidence that with proper incentives the reserve ranks could be filled out by voluntary means. He said he would not be deterred by Wilson's opposition from pushing his bonus-incentive plan when the committee starts writing up the reserve bill next week.

The committee plans to hear Monday from Defense Department witnesses, including Assistant Defense Secretary Carter L. Burgess, in charge of manpower and reserves.

Russell said his mind is not closed on his plan and that he may withdraw it if the defense officials can show that it would "cause a breakdown or be destructive of the reserve."

Wilson's letter, although not directly referring to Russell's bonus plan, opposed any move to strip the compulsory training features for veterans from the Administration program. Russell had previously expressed strong misgivings over the equity or propriety of imposing a reserve training obligation on men who had already served their tours of active duty. The Administration seeks to build a combat-ready reserve of 2,900,000 by 1960.

Highway Program.

On another congressional front, Tom Steed (Dem.), Oklahoma, predicted that the House Public Works Committee would approve a multi-billion dollar highway program financed in part by a higher tax on gasoline.

Steed was instrumental in setting up a nine-man subcommittee which recommended the tax plan yesterday as the solution to a dispute over financing expanded highway construction recommended by the President.

The subcommittee was convinced that the House would follow the Senate's lead and reject the President's own bond-financing plan. It thus dropped that plan in favor of additional taxes on gasoline, truck fuel and tires; and trucks, buses and trailers.

The new levies, to be in effect for 14 years, would raise 13 billion dollars of the 12-year program's cost of 42 to 47 billion dollars.

The subcommittee recommended a 1-cent increase in federal gasoline taxes, from 2 to 3 cents a gallon, and a 4-cent increase in the 2-cent tax on diesel fuel for trucks.

It recommended also a 10-cent per pound hike in the tax on truck tires larger than 8½x18 and an extra 6 cents on tubes for such tires. A new 7½-cent tax would be imposed on retreaded truck tires.

Tax Hike for Trucks, Busses.

The excise tax on trucks, busses and trailers would be raised from 8 to 10 per cent under the subcommittee proposal.

The President, in recommending a 10-year 39-billion-dollar program, wanted to set up a special corporation to issue 27 billions in non-Treasury bonds. His aids said the proposal would avoid both higher taxes and an immediate increase in the federal deficit or national debt.

The Senate flatly refused and approved instead a Democratic plan for a five-year program with the 18 billions in costs paid for out of regular Treasury funds.

Mr. Eisenhower indicated to House Republican leaders that he would veto any bill which did not have a self-financing feature.

By the Associated Press.

The House Ways and Means Committee voted to ease various taxes by more than $30,000,000 a year—despite word from Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey that he was against further loss now to federal revenues.

Chairman Jere Cooper (Dem.), Tennessee, said the group voted also to give the Treasury subpena powers and allow it to conduct under-oath investigations in its drive to stamp out illegal narcotics traffic.

Other bills approved by the committee in closed seession, Cooper said, included those to:

Repeal the present 4 cents a ton excise tax on the transportation of coal. That would cost the Treasury an estimated $18,000,000 a year.

Reduce from 10 to 5 per cent the manufacturer's excise on self-contained air conditioning units, such as those commonly used in homes and offices. Estimated cost: $10,000,000 a year.

Allow corporations to carry back to two years, or forward up to five years, their foreign tax credits in figuring their income tax. Cost: Perhaps $5,000,000.

Repeal the tariff on crude silica, now $1.75 a ton. Cooper said silica is used in a wide variety of manufacturing operations but did not give an estimate of the revenue loss.

LORD FERMOY DIES, WOULDN'T LIVE IN U.S. FOR MILLION

KINGS LYNN, England, July 9 (AP)—Lord Fermoy, who once turned down more than $1,000,000 rather than become an American, died yesterday. He was 70 year sold.

Lord Fermoy was 6 when his mother, the former Frances Work of New York, divorced his father in 1891. When his American grandfather died, he left him some $1,500,000 on condition that he sever all his British connections and come to the United States.

Both Lord Fermoy and his twin brother, Francis George Roche, who was offered the same fortune on similar terms, refused to accept such a deal.

The matter was taken to the courts in 1911 and was settled later in an agreement giving the twin brothers only slightly less than the original amount and allowing them to remain British.

UNIVERSITY CHURCH BUILDS NEW UNIT

Methodists to Break Ground Tomorrow for $150,000 Educational Building.

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

A woman and man, who as children helped to break ground for the first University Methodist Church, will help break ground tomorrow for the church's new $150,000 educational building Three third-generation members of the congregation also will take part in the ceremony.

Mrs. Margaret Cutter of 233 Crandon drive, Clayton, and John Vierling, 6255 Waterman avenue, were children in the Sunday school when they helped break ground for the first sanctuary in 1913. Mrs. Cutter is the daughter of Dr. C. E. Burford, 6655 Washington boulevard, who has been chairman of the board of University Church for 28 years; he will take part in the service tomorrow.

Vierling's father's home, where John Vierling still lives, was the place where the congregation was organized July 26, 1909. The church was then called Cupples Chapel, and the original building now serves as the Sunday school building.

Third generation members who will take part in the groundbreaking are Miss Barbara Ann Cutter; Miss Carol Garrett, 6234 Washington boulevard and Pvt. Donald Hays. Miss Garrett's father, Robert Garrett, was the first child baptized in University Church. Hays is the grandson of T. Frank Wood, 8135 Cornell avenue, a member of the original church board and now treasurer of the church.

The Rev. Dr Jesse E. Thomas, minister of the church, will conduct the service tomorrow at 10 a.m. After services in the church, the congregation will go to the northwest corner of the property, Washington boulevard and Trinity avenue, where the groundbreaking will take place. The Rev. Dr. Herman H. Luetzow, superintendent of the St. Louis District of the Methodist Church, will turn the first earth; he will use the same spade used in the original groundbreaking 42 years ago.

Dr. Humber Burford, chairman of the Board of Trustees and son of Dr. C. E. Burford, and other officers of the congregation will take part in the service.

The new educational building, two-story and basement, will provide rooms for nursery, kindergarten and primary department, a meeting place for college students, and choir room.

University Church was organized with 12 charter members and now has a membership of 1500. The church school has an average attendance of about 500.

Church White Cross Program Enlists Workers of All Ages

Third Baptist Group Sent Nylons to Japan, Vitamins to Korea, Made 4463 Quilt Pieces, Donated 737 Cakes.

The "White Cross" program of Third Baptist Church represents the labor and gifts of nearly 1100 persons on behalf of church and charity projects. This friendly arm of good will extends around the world.

A report of the "White Cross" department, covering the period from Sept. 1, 1954, to May 31, 1955 has just been issued by the chairman, Mrs. James P. Hironimus of 6327 Potomac street. The program was supported by the Woman's Society of the church, both day and evening divisions; by Royal Ambassadors, who are boys from 9 to 15 years of age; Young Woman's Auxiliary. Sunday school classes, "and friends."

There were 1074 workers, who put in 1929 hours of labor, and made the following articles: 4463 quilt pieces, 60 scrap books, 500 eye wipes, 50 baby blankets, 175 cancer pads, 45 kitchen aprons, 25 rag dolls, 25 girls' dresses, 2200 tray cards, 1710 roller bandages, and 500 surgical pads.

Women of the church contributed 737 cakes for the annual strawberry festival for the benefit of the Missouri Baptist Children's Home at Pattonville.

The "White Cross" department spent $642.49 for materials, postage and express, and sent $153 to the Watonga Baptist Mission, Geary, Okla., for a camp for Indian boys and girls.

"We delivered 1200 pounds of clothing to St. Louis Church World Service Center," Mrs. Hironimus reports. "Ninety pounds of candy and 24 cans of food were sent to the Baptist Home for the Aged at Iron, Mo."

Other items reported include the following shipments: Five bags, 22 pounds each, of nylon hose to Japan; eight cartons of roller bandages to the American Leprosy Mission, Inc., New York; one carton of old eye glasses to Eyes for Needy, Inc., Short Hills, N. J.

Eighteen cartons of clothing to Baptist Mather School, Beaufort, S.C.; one carton of daily vacation Bible school materials for migratory labor camp, Okmulgee, Okla., 15 cartons of vitamins, band-aids, clothing and roller bandages to Korea.

Other shipments were sent to the Belgian Congo, Indochina, Burma, Germany, and to American Indians in Oklahoma and Montana.

"White Cross" workers meet at the church every Tuesday the year around from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mr. Hironimus has been chairman for three years. Mrs. Fred H. Pillsbury is presidtnt of the Woman's Society.

Banks Collects Victory and Record With Two More Homers Off Cards

Cub's Blow In the 11th Fells Birds

By Jack Rice

If one piece of evidence builds a case, Stan Hack has become a gentle fraud, after all these years of proof to the opposite. Cubs Manager Hack says he is going to Los Angeles during his furlough as a non-combatant in the All-Star game, just for a casual look at what's growing down on the farm.

A Cardinal pitcher will tell you there is nothing casual about Hack's look at the Cubs' subsidiary in Los Angeles. Stan will be looking for someone with a resemblance to Ernie Banks's talents.

He can begin his search at the wrists, and if there's a flip of 'em that reminds him of Banks, Hack can relax and dream of the day he has Banks plus Player X. That's the day the Cards shouldn't bother to show against Chicago.

New Mark for Shortstops.

The Cubs have had troubles, since the last week of June. They have been .500 in 14 games, in the frolic to be the also-ran that substitutes for a league race. Hack said last night, after Banks' second home run had broken a home-run record for the National League shortstops' division and had broken the Cardinals, too, 6-4, "Banks has been carrying this club the past two weeks. He's been great."

Shortstop Banks has been at least moderately great the last two weeks, except against the Cardinals. Against them, he has been almost illegally great. Taking Hack's two-week span literally, and considering today the end of it, Banks has hit .340, or 17 hits in 50 times at bat, in the 14 games. He has hit .550, 10 hits in 18 times at bat in five games against the Cardinals (four won) in that time.

Banks has hit seven home runs in the last two weeks and he has hit four against St. Louis. He has driven in 14 runs, 22 per cent of the Cubs' total or not bad even for a man most often batting fourth, and he has driven in seven of them against his friendly favorites, the Cardinals.

So the wonder was that he held off as long as he did, and didn't hit his two-run homer until the eleventh inning last night at Busch Stadium. He was up with a man on in the seventh, too, but perhaps he felt it time to give the law of averages its small due. He retired on a fly to center, the only time the Cardinals got him out in a 3-for-4, 3-R.B.I. night.

Cards Use Four Hurlers.

The final Banks shot was against Gordon Jones, a sometimes-starter appearing in relief as the third of four Cardinal pitchers. Jones walked the inning's leadoff man, Gene Baker. Jim King was retired, and Banks came to bat. He hit a liner into the leftfield bleachers, scored behind Baker, and became the homer-hittingest shortstop ever in the National League.

In baseball's marvelous aggregate of statistics, many leagues above the most-scratches-between-swings type of records and many leagues below Babe Ruth, is the most-homers-by-shortstops record. It was held by Glen Wright. They called him "Buckshot," and they called him a wondrous long-ball hitting shortstop when he hit 22 homers for Brooklyn in 1930.

Buckshot's record is a BB pellet now, and at the rate All-Star game shortstop Banks is going his new record has only himself to fear. As a footnote Al Dark has hit 23 homers in a season, too. He doesn't count, because he was caught playing the outfield and third base when he hit a goodly number of them.

Homers by Two Other Clubs.

All the Cub runs were arrived at the strong, direct way. King and Banks homered successively in the first inning, against starter Floyd Wooldridge. Hank Sauer hit one against Wooldridge in the fifth, after Banks got on base with an infield single.

"I dunno," said Cardinal manager Harry Walker, "our pitchers sure can throw a long ball." A ray of sunshine standing by brightly volunteered the Cubs had hit an even 100 homers, after Banks's second stroke of mischief. Walker proved he has been reading the footnotes, too. "Yeah, 28 of them against us," he said.

In the locker room, Stan Musial made an artist's appraisal of another artist. "He uses his wrists," said Musial of Banks. "Just meets the ball." Once met, it's long gone, and the nicest hope for Cardinal pitchers is that Hack doesn't see a flick of the wrists in L.A. to remind him even remotely of home.

PITCHING — BOB LEMON, Indians, gave four hits, walked only one, before tiring and leaving after eight innings in 1-0 victory over White Sox that made him American League's first 12-game winner this season.

HITTING — EARL TORGESON, Tigers, belted his second three-run homer of game in eleventh inning to beat Kansas City 11-8.

And Then He Pounded Out a Hit

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

WILLIE MAYS, Giants' outfielder, hits the dirt after dodging a close pitch from Don Newcombe of the Dodgers. Willie got up, brushed off his uniform and pounded out a single. On the first pitch to Don Mueller, he stole second. The catcher is RUBE WALKER and the umpire BILL ENGELN. The Dodgers won, 12-8.

National Leaguers Wallop 14 Homers; Season's Total Is 701

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—Not only is the National League on its way to another season home run record, but it looks like it plans to club the poor ol' American League to death come Tuesday's All-Star game in Milwaukee.

The senior circuit clubs swatted 14 last night, giving them 66 for the last five days in the tuneup for next week's classic. With the season little more than half completed, the National now has 701.

That puts the major league record of 1,197, set only two years ago by the N.L., in considerable jeopardy.

Chicago's Cubs led the way last night, pounding four while beating St. Louis 6-4 in 11 innings. Brooklyn hammered three in its come-from-behind 12-8 triumph over New York. And Milwaukee hit three in sweeping a twi-nighter from Cincinnati 4-2 and 5-3. Only Pittsburgh and Philadelphia failed to connect. The Phils defeated the Bucs 5-1 after the Pirates had wrapped up a suspended game of May 29, 11-5.

Eight Homers In A. L.

The American League, figuring to better its 1950 record of 973 homers hit eight for a current season total of 534. Two of them came as Baltimore ended Boston's seven-game winning streak 9-3. And Earl Torgeson swung for two three-run jobs as Detroit beat Kansas City 11-8 in 11 innings.

First place New York beat Washington 3-0 and runnerup Cleveland defeated third place Chicago 1-0.

Don Zimmer, Don Hoak and Gil Hodges poked homers for the Brooks, who were down 6-0 after three innings when the Giants shelled Don Newcombe. The Dodgers scored six runs in the last three innings to win it after the Giants had resorted to seven pitchers.

The Braves' Ed Mathews hit his 22nd with a man on as Warren Spahn won his seventh in the opener. And Hank Aaron and Bobby Thomson each homered in the nightcap as Lew Burdette hung on to win despite 11 Cincinnati hits.

Baltimore also ended Frank Sullivan's seven-game winning string with Dave Philley driving in three runs with a homer and two doubles. Gus Triandos added a two-run homer. Ted Williams doubled, singled and walked twice, boosting his batting average to .413.

No. 12 for Lemon

Bob Lemon was back in form for the Indians and became the first American League pitcher to win 12 this season. Al Rosen's pop double scored the big run off loser Billy Pierce in the first inning. The victory left the Tribe four games behind the Yanks and two up on the White Sox.

The Yankees won behind Tommy Byrne, although the Senators had a rally in the works in the seventh when rain halted the game as an official six-inning contest. An infield out and sacrifice flys by Elston Howard and Yogi Berra scored the New York runs.

Torgeson's second big blow won the game at Detroit. Al Kaline took the league lead earlier with his 19th homer. Joe Demaestri had six consecutive singles for the A's, who had beaten the Tigers six straight.

The Phillies took the Bucs with three runs in the fifth while Herm Wehmeier allowed six hits. Pittsburgh scored three times in the eighth, while the Phils scored once in both the eighth and ninth innings as the two clubs put the final 2½ innings on the suspended game.

Arch Ward Dies; Originator of All-Star Games

CHICAGO, July 9 (AP) — Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, died today.

Ward was internationally known for the sports events he promoted. Among them were Golden Gloves boxing tournaments, Silver Skates ice skating meets and the annual All-Star football game.

Ward, 58, also conceived the idea of matching the best players in the National League against the top performers in the American League in the All-Star baseball game.

The first game in the series was played July 6, 1933, in Chicago's Comiskey Park. It coincided with the World's Fair which was held in Chicago that year.

But the game was so popular that it was put on each year. The twenty-second annual All-Star game will be played next Tuesday in Milwaukee.

Barber's Record 129 Paces Golf Tourney Field

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 9 (AP)—Jerry Barber, packing a record-breaking 129 at the halfway mark, paced some of the nation's top professionals today in quest of major share of the $15,000 prize pool in the St. Paul Open golf tournament.

Barber opened his title bid with a 9-under-par 63 Thursday and followed with a 66 yesterday to break by one stroke the 130 mark set by Heny Ransom of St. Andrew's, Ill., in 1952.

The little golfer from Los Angeles needed a 66 today in the third round to break the 54-hole record of 196 set by Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, in 1951. Mangrum and Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, share the 72-hole mark of 266.

It was magnificent putting by Barber that kept him in the lead in this wild-scoring tourney. Jerry dropped putts from 5 to 20 feet for five birdies on the first nine Friday as he shot that stretch in 5-under-31. Thursday he had tied the first nine record with a 30.

But Barber holds only a three-stroke lead over young Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., who added a 67 to his opening 65 for 132, and a four-shot edge over Tommy Bolt, Chattanooga, Tenn., one of the most feared contenders in the tournament, who fired a 68 to go with his 65 for 133.

Others still in contention are George Bigham, Kansas City, with a pair of 68s for 136, and Fred Hawkins, St. Andrew's, also with 136 on a 64-72. Tied at 137 are Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., and Wally Ulrich, Rochester, Minn., and deadlocked at 138 are Ralph Blomquist, Glendale, Calif., Jerry Kesselring, Toronto, and Joe Coria, St. Paul.

Thirty-six golfers broke par yesterday on the second round and 38 hit the halfway grind with under par figures. A four-inch rain Thursday night softened the greens enough to hold shots and the players found this, plus cooler weather, a pleasant combination.

The field was cut to the 60 low pros and ties, the 10 low amateurs and the 10 low Minnesota pros after yesterday's round. The cutoff for the pros was a 3-over-par 147.

Limmer Floored Three Times; Two Players Land in Hospital After Brawl in Columbus Game

COLUMBUS, O., July 9 (AP)—Long considered a "dead" town as far as professional boxing is concerned, Columbus had more impromptu punch-throwing during an International League baseball game last night than New York's Yankee Stadium packs into a full fight card.

The occasion was a game between Columbus's Jets and Toronto's Maple Leafs. The Leafs took the ball game, 4-1, but the winner of the fisticuffs is still doubtful today.

Both Lou Limmer of the Leafs, former major leaguer and early-season Jets's first baseman, and righthander Al (Dutch) Romberger, the Jets's ace relief pitcher, wound up in a Columbus hospital.

Limmer suffered bruises about the face and body after being knocked down three times during a series of fights which broke out during the fourth and fifth innings. Romberger may have a possible fracture of his pitching arm.

Both were released from the hospital but results of Romberger's X-rays were not expected until later day.

Trouble first broke out in the middle of the fourth when Limmer and Jet Manager Nick Cullop both headed for the mound to intervene in an argument between Toronto Pitcher Bill Miller and Jet Outfielder Al Pinkston. The Columbus fielder had charged Miller tried to dust him off in the second.

Limmer and Cullop exchanged words, and then Cullop floored the first sacker with a left hook. Order was restored quickly and Cullop was ejected.

The biggest part of the melee followed in the fifth when Limmer, running hard into second, knocked down his former teammate at Philadelphia and Kansas City, Spook Jacobs, Jets's second baseman. Jacobs, 5-9, got up and decked the 6 2½ Limmer with a series of four blows.

Then both benches emptied and third baseman Frank Verdi of the Jets floored Limmer again.

Before it was over 40 players were involved, and it took the umpires, 11 sheriff's deputies and seven local policemen to restore order.

George Trautman, minor league president, was at the game, but he said he would withhold action until getting the umpires' report later in the day.

Fight Results.

TOKYO—Sandy Saddler, 131¾, New York, stopped Shigeji Kaneko, 128, Japan, 6. (Non-title).

DALLAS—Bobby Spath, 183, Dallas, and William (Red) Worley), 185, San Angelo, drew, 10.

Cards to Turn Over $10,058 Benefit Game Check to Boys Tonight

THE Baseball for Boys Committee will receive a check for $10,058.46 before the Cardinals-Cub game at Busch Stadium tonight. The amount is the after-expenses donation to the committee's sandlot program from the exhibition game played here earlier in the season between the Cardinals and the Cleveland Indians.

The receipts are at least $4000 greater than cautious estimates made immediately after the game. Msgr. Lloyd A. Sullivan, chairman of the committee, will receive the check from Bill Walsingham, Cardinals' vice president, and Eberhard Anheuser, brewery executive and also a Cardinals vice president.

Swaps Seeks Eighth Straight

INGLEWOOD, Calif., July 9 (UP)—Rex C. Ellsworth's Swaps, whose last defeat was exactly a year ago, goes after his eighth straight victory today in the $50,000 added Westerner for three-year-olds at Hollywood Park.

A field of six colts was named for the mile and a quarter race which will mark Swaps's last start in the West this season. He is slated for a midwestern and Eastern campaign starting next month with the Arlington Derby.

The Kentucky Derby winner was named with a stablemate, Bequeath, as the Ellsworth entry. The four others brave enough to even think of facing them were Fabulous Vegas, Brooksickle, Jean's Joe and Hickory Stick.

red-bird notes

Tom Poholsky will pitch for the Cardinals tonight against the Cubs. His opponent will be Warren Hacker. They begin even. Neither has a record this year against the opposing club.

Poholsky drew the standard assignment for a starter, the night before he pitches. He charted the pitches made by his fellows and the hits made by the opposition. Instead of sitting in the dugout, he dressed in street clothes and entered the stands. A photographer had been hired to take movies of starter Floyd Wooldridge, for future reference, and Poholsky was to sychronize his notes with the camera shots.

It was a late-hatching idea, and there was a hitch. Occupants of seats in the second-tier vantage point which the photographer wanted liked them too well to move. So the photographer sat in one aisle, photographing, and six seats away Poholsky sat in another aisle, taking notes. The delay in getting set for action caused the cameraman to miss those fine action shots, two successive homers off Wooldridge in the first inning. Later, the photographer retired to another vantage point, and Poholsky sat on a chair in the press box.

Minner Relieved in Seventh.

The Cardinals got rid of that affable nemesis, Paul Minner, but it wasn't even a moral victory. He couldn't have been stuck with the defeat as it turned out. He has beaten them four times. And, he hasn't been beaten by them, this season. That seemed about to end in the seventh.

Nelson Burbrink opened with a single. Alex Grammas was hit by a pitch. Bill Sarni sacrificed the men to second and third. Ken Boyer was purposely passed and the gamble that Red Schoendienst might hit into a double play was defeated by Minner. He walked Schoendienst, forcing in the tying run, leaving the bases loaded. Opportunity thereon was grandly ignored. Jim Davis relieved Minner, struck out Stan Musial, and Rip Repulski hit into an inning-ending force play.

Mel Wright's scoreless three innings of relief pitching was his seventh appearance in eight days for the Cards. He has allowed four runs in 9⅓ innings. Three of the runs were by Milwaukee—in a game he won.

Home Run by Musial.

The bulk of Cardinal scoring, a three-run fourth, began with a homer by Musial. Repulski walked. Pete Whisenant lined a double to left and Harry Elliott was intentionally walked, filling the bases. Burbrink hit to short, for a start on what the Cubs wanted, and while Repulski scored, Virdon was forced at second. But Gene Baker's throw to first for Burbrink was wide, Whisenant scored and Burbrink reached second on the error.

Twenty-four-year-old Ernie Banks gave the Cards no hope that he will prove fragile and maybe sit out a game against them. He has played every game since he joined the Cubs at the tag-end of the 1953 season, from the ranks of Negro league baseball.—J.R.

Adios Harry Paces To New World Mark

VERNON, N.Y., July 9 (UP)—Adios Harry smashed the world record for pacers by traveling the mile in 1:55 2-5 in a race last night at Vernon Downs.

All other seven horses in the race also broke the old world's race record of 1:57 4-5 set by good time at Lexington in 1951 and equaled by Sampson Hanover at Springfield, Ill., in 1952.

Adios Harry's time was only two-fifths of a second off Billy Direct's all-time mark of 1:55 flat set against the Fence in 1938 at Lexington.

Thomson Says Plenty of Rest, Not Practice, Enabled Him to Retain British Open Golf Title

—A.P. Wirephoto by radio from London.

PETER THOMSON, Australian golfer, displays the trophy he took by retaining the British open championship at St. Andrews, Scotland. Thomson's winning total was 281.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, July 9 (UP)—Grinning, good-looking Peter Thomson of Australia today credited "plenty of rest," not practice, for his successful defense of the British Open golf championship.

The curly-haired, 25-year-old Thomson, who set a tournament record score for the ancient St. Andrews course by winning the event with a 281 yesterday, said he might not have done so well had he engaged in daily practice rounds before the tourney as so many of the other competitors did.

"I played the course last autumn and got to know it very well," he explained. "Consequently, when I came to St. Andrews a week ago, I got in as much rest as possible."

The contingent of United States players, all of whom were out practicing while Thomson was resting, didn't fare nearly as well as he did.

The five American survivors in yesterday's final two rounds wound up far back in field of 49 players and the majority of them were so fed up with the condition of the course that they vowed never to return to play in any future British opens.

Furgol Ties For 19th.

Ed Furgol, the Clayton, Mo., pro who won the United States open in 1954, made the best showing of any American, but his total of 292 only tied him for nineteenth place.

"I'm not coming back," he said after finishing yesterday. "There are too many good tournaments in the United States. The British title is not worth spending all that money."

Joe Conrad, the 25-year-old air force lieutenant from San Antonio, Tex., earned some consolation for the United States forces by winning the medal for the lowest amateur. His 293 tied him for 22nd place in the overall standings, however.

Veteran Byron Nelson, the 43-year-old Texan recently returned to the golf wars, had a 72-hole total of 296 and Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh soared to an 80 in the final round to finish with 298. The only other United States player who survived Thursday's cut in the original field of 94 was amateur Jimmy McHale of Wynnewood, Pa., who posted a 295.

Second Lowest Score.

Thomson put together steady rounds of 70 and 72 yesterday to finish with the second lowest score in British open history. His total was only two strokes higher than the record 279 shot by Bobby Locke of South Africa at Troon, Scotland, in 1950. No one in British open history, however, bettered Thomson's score during the 17 tournaments that were held here on St. Andrews' bunker-lined course.

Thomson's triumph made him the fifth golfer since the turn of the century to win the crown two years running. Bobby Jones won it in 1926-27 and Walter Hagen the following two years. James Braid of England won in 1905 and again in 1906 while Locke captured the crown in 1949 and 1950.

Thomson won last year's title at Southport, England, with a score of 283.

His closest competitor for this year's title, which earned him 1000 pounds sterling ($2800) first prize money, was 42-year-old John Fallon of England, who was two strokes behind with 283. Frank Jowle of England, who won the 36-hole qualifying medal, was third with 284 while Locke, a three-time winner of the tournament, finished fourth with 285.

Toledo Takes Lead in Association Flag Race

TOLEDO, July 9 (INS)—Toledo took undisputed possession of first place in the American Association after losses by Minneapolis and Omaha broke up the three-way tie for the top spot.

Toledo took the lead by virtue of an extra-inning 3 to 1 victory over Louisville. In the fourteenth, Sammy Meeks hit a homer with Jim Pendleton on base.

Denver's Bears toppled Minneapolis from the first place running by out-pitching the Millers 6 to 3.

A twin-bill proved unlucky for Omaha, knocked out of the league leading tie when St. Paul won 9 to 2 and 7 to 1.

In the lower bracket, Charleston poundedIndianapolis 9 to 7. A homer in the ninth with two men on base gave the Senators the necessary push.

Stephens Hits Grand Slammer In Coast Debut

SEATTLE, July 9 (UP)—Vern Stephens, making his Pacific Coast League debut after 15 years in the majors, socked a grand-slam home run last night to give the Seattle Rainiers a 4-0 win over Los Angeles.

The former St. Louis Browns and Boston Red Sox slugging star's circuit clout in the sixth inning backed up a brilliant two-hit pitching performance by Lou Kretlow and kept the Rainiers two games behind the league-leading San Diego Padres. Kretlow now has won four games—all shutouts—and lost none.

Loser George Piktuzis (4-4) and Bob Coats each hit singles for the only hits off Kretlow. The Rainier pitcher fanned seven and walked seven.

In other games, Sacramento cooled off rookie pitching prospect Lowell Creighton in downing San Francisco, 6-5; San Diego eased past Hollywood, 3-1, and Oakland scored two runs in the ninth inning to defeat Portland, 5-4.

In Hollywood, Eddie Kazak rapped a bases-loaded single in the sixth inning to give San Diego a 2-1 lead which Cal McLish (9-5) protected the rest of the way. The Pads loaded the bases again in the seventh and brought in their final tally on a fielder's choice.

Al Federoff paced San Diego's 13-hit attack with four singles in five trips. Starter and loser Ben Wade (2-1) yielded 11 of the 13 safeties.

YOUTH ADMITS AX KILLING OF GIRL, 4

Victim Assaulted, Body Found in Shallow Cellar Grave.

MANCHESTER, N.H., July 9 (AP)—The nude body of a 4-year-old girl missing since Wednesday, was found last night in a shallow grave in the cellar of a young neighbor's home.

Authorities said Patricia Johnson had been sexually abused and killed with an ax and that Walter Bourque Jr., 17-year-old shoe factory worker and a volunteer searcher for her, admitted the crime.

County Solicitor Conrad Danais said Bourque admitted he criminally assaulted her and then killed her when she said: "I'm going to tell my mother."

Danais said he would seek the death penalty — hanging — for Bourque, who is being held without bail. He will appear in superior court Monday.

The girl had been the object of an intensive search since she was last seen by her father Wednesday night playing in front of her home.

Bourque was quoted as saying he lured the child into the cellar of his home about 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, abused her and she told him she was going to tell her mother.

Police Chief Francis J. McGranaghan said Bourque made his confession to two police lieutenants who were making a house-to-house neighborhood search for Patricia.

Danais said Bourque told authorities: "I was afraid she would tell on me."

Bourque grabbed an ax, Danais said, and struck the girl twice on the head and once on the back. Danais said the girl was killed about 15 minutes after she entered the cellar.

Danais quoted Bourque as saying he put the girl's body in a 2½-foot deep hole in the earth-floor cellar, covered it with dirt and placed a window screen over the grave.

The girl's father suggested that police question young Bourque. He told them yesterday that his daughter sometimes went into Walter's cellar to watch him chop wood.

Danais said the youth, the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bourque Sr., was "calm, cool and collected" as he admitted the killing.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Richard Johnson, who is expecting a fourth child soon, collapsed and was placed under a doctor's care. The Johnsons have two sons, John, 6, and Richard Jr., 21 months.

AIR FORCE USES SLED-LIKE GEAR TO TEST PARACHUTES

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The Air Force has made the first trial run of an ultra-fast sled device designed to test out parachutes and other equipment launched at faster-than-sound speeds.

The trial was held in Utah yesterday. The rocket-propelled sled and track device, located on Hurricane mesa, near Zion National park, will hurl testing equipment over the edge of a 1500-foot cliff as the sled stops suddenly at the end of its track.

Equipment can be used after each test when recovered at the foot of the cliff following a parachute drop. The Air Force calls the new gadget "smart," derived from the official designation of super sonic military air research. The Air Force is trying to improve the safety factor for pilots who are forced to bail out of super sonic planes where normal parachutes are useless.

Actual testing of the ejection equipment from planes flying at super sonic speeds "is becoming impractical and expensive," the Air Force said. The device was designed and built for the Air Force by Coleman Engineering Co., Los Angeles.

AUSTRIA TODAY

A world trade section in rotogravure

Along Europe's most fabulous river, the Danube, and stretching upward to the snow-capped Alps, lies Austria, citadel in yesteryear of the life of gaiety and abandon.

Today Austria, stricken and sobered by 17 years of war and foreign occupation, is joyous again in freedom and sovereignty, but there is no abandon.

Imbued with new faith and a new understanding of her role in history, Austria as a republic discovers goals, never before envisioned, of achievement in democracy. Geographically and physically, Austria is, as ever, at once an international crossroads and a land of enchantment. She calls upon the world to witness her rebirth, to aid and to understand as she learns to walk in the new way of life.

The section is presented in the interest of international commerce and, to the extent that international commerce may constitute a factor in the promotion and maintenance of international amity. It has been compiled by A. R. Lerner, a special European representative of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

STASSEN CALLS STEVENSON 'SLY, SMOOTH SNIPER'

Assails Democrat's Charge Eisenhower Does Nothing About School Problems.

CHICAGO, July 9 (UP)—Harold E. Stassen, special assistant to President Eisenhower, accused Adlai Stevenson of being "sly," "smooth," and a "political sniper" in a speech here last night.

Stassen altered the advance text of his speech to the 93rd annual meeting of the National Education Association to make what he said was his personal reply to Stevenson's attack on Administration school policies before the N.E.A. Wednesday night.

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, accused the Administration of doing "absolutely nothing" to solve school problems and Mr. Eisenhower of reneging on a personal pledge to relieve the classroom and teacher shortage. He called for vast federal expenditures to aid schools, but emphasized control of schools should remain in the hands of state and local officials.

Matter of Control.

Stassen countered that the federal government must not have "detailed control" over the nation's school system "if we are to continue to be a great free people."

Stassen, who was recently appointed as the President's special adviser on disarmament, charged that "in a sly and smooth manner it was implied (by Stevenson) that President Eisenhower was more interested in public roads and military reserves than he was in children's education and school teachers.

"No implication ever made was more remote from the truth," Stassen said.

Stassen said there is a "very basic and important reason" why the nation's program for roads and the military must be different from that for the schools.

He said this reason is that the Government must have "detailed control" over the former but not over the latter.

Assails Sniping.

"What America needs," he said, "is more politicians busy building more schools and raising teachers pay within the districts and the states, and less of politicians sniping at the President of the United States. . . ."

Stassen said he spoke out in reply to Stevenson because an understanding of Mr. Eisenhower's policies by the teachers of the nation was "so important" on the eve of the "summit" meetings.

He told an earlier press conference he is confident Mr. Eisenhower will be drafted to run in 1956, "will run, and will be elected."

John Lester Buford, 57-year-old superintendent of schools at Mount Vernon, Ill., was installed as N.E.A. president for a one-year term.

WHITFIELD AEC NOMINATION TO BE WITHDRAWN

nomination will require less intensive investigation," Anderson commented.

(The United Press quoted Anderson as saying, only a few hours before the White House made public Whitfield's withdrawal request, that he had issued subpenas to commit investigators in Des Moines. He said they had received "very little co-operation from Whitfield.

Mr. Eisenhower was quoted after meeting with Republican congressional leaders only last month as saying that the Whitfield nomination was a good one.)

Whitfield wrote the President that it appeared his service on AEC, if confirmed, might involve the commission in controversy "for which I would be made to feel responsible and which I am confident you did not intend that important agency to sustain."

The AEC directs the Government's far-flung atomic activities both for peace and war. These now involve an investment of about 12 billion dollars.

Cause of Investigation.

The Joint Committee's investigation of Whitfield centered about the Valley Bank & Trust Co. of Des Moines.

The 51-year-old attorney was a trustee of the estate of R. A. Crawford, who died in 1937, a principal owner of the bank's stock. The committee has been seeking to determine whether interests of Mrs. Crawford, the widow, and other beneficiaries of the estate, including Drake University, were adequately protected.

Anderson disclosed that the investigation came to a head Wednesday night when two committee investigators sent to Des Moines reported they were unable to get information they had been told to obtain.

Whitfield said he had received from Anderson a letter asking detailed replies of a "most extraordinary nature" about his private affairs and those of some of his clients.

Some of these he had planned to answer but to furnish data on others "would involve a breach of legal ethics by me," he wrote.

Price Charged Politics.

Representative Melvin Price, (Dem.), Illinois, a member of the Joint Committee, said in a speech in the House March 28 that Whitfield was a "political appointee" and urged that the name be withdrawn.

Price, an East St. Louisan, said the appointment was made after Whitfield and another member of the Iowa State Republican committee had urged that the state be given more patronage recognition.

(The United Press added that Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, ranking Republican on the committee, defended Whitfield and said "his record is clean." Hickenlooper said the charges against Whitfield were based on "certain irresponsible . . . unfounded rumors circulated by certain individuals with undisclosed motives.")

Whitfield's action, although unusual, was not unprecedented. During the first month of the Eisenhower administration, the President withdrew the nomination of Robert C. Sprague as Assistant Secretary of the Air Force. Sprague asked that action rather than agree to sell his holdings in the Sprague Electric Co.

Later in 1953, the appointment of Tom Lyon as chief of the Bureau of Mines was withdrawn after the Sale Lake City geologist expressed dislike of the mine safety law and disclosed he was receiving a revocable pension from the Anaconda Copper Corp.

In April of this year, Julius C. Holmes asked for wisdrawal of his appointment as Ambassador to Iran for reasons of health, but later took another diplomatic post which did not require Senate confirmation. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee had approved Holmes's appointment after he explained his $270,000 profit in a ship transaction.

HALL WANTS G.O.P. TO RUN EISENHOWER, NIXON AGAIN

CHICAGO, July 9 (AP)—The winning team of President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon should be retained by the Republicans at the 1956 national convention, says Leonard W. Hall, G.O.P. national chairman.

"Mr. Eisenhower is as popular today as he ever was," Hall told a press conference yesterday. "He will win as big in 1956 as he did in 1952."

Hall said he is working as national chairman "on the assumption that Mr. Eisenhower will seek re-election next year." The President has not announced his intentions for 1956. Hall, who was in Chicago for a meeting of Republican campaign contributors, also said the Republicans will regain control of Congress next year.

FRANCIS JONES FINE AS CONCERT SOLOIST

Violinist Plays With Beautiful Tone at Little Symphony Program.

By THOMAS B. SHERMAN

Francis Jones, who has been serving as concertmaster with the St. Louis Little Symphony Orchestra during the present season, was the soloist at last night's concert in Washington University Quadrangle. His performance of the Bach A Minor violin concerto brought added distinction to a program that was admirably selected and finely executed. Jascha Horenstein conducted.

Jones played with a beautiful tone and with a control that enabled him to give the music an essentially lyrical interpretation by means of significant inflecting and shading. He allowed himself plenty of freedom for breadth of phrasing, but at no point was so expansive as to disturb the basic pulse or obscure the architectural design. The string orchestra with a piano serving as a continuo provided a sturdy, musicianly accompaniment.

As an encore, the soloist played the adagio from Bach's G Minor sonata, a difficult piece because of its double stop, contrapuntal passage. It often sounds like a mere tour de force for violinist using the modern bow. But Jones made it sound genuinely poetic and introspective.

Haydn's Symphony No. 2, called "The Bear," because of its growling basses in the last movement, was given a bright, sparkling performance that was in every way suitable to its style and content. Horenstein as usual was meticulous in making the inner detail count for something. The performance of Prokofieff's Classical Symphony—an elegant and witty opus—was treated with equal deftness. In the first movement the secondary voices were too prominent. This probably could not be avoided with a small string section playing under this special acoustical condition.

The fourth number on the program played with an appropriate atmospheric charm, was the Fantasy on "Greensleeves" for Strings, Harp and Two Flutes, by Vaughan Williams. The original "Greensleeves" is an English folk tune which the composer used in an opera about John Falstaff called "Sir John in Love."

The final concert of the season, which has been a notable success thus far—and a personal success for Jascha Horenstein—will take place next Friday night with Harold Zabrack, pianist, as soloist.

U.S. Agency Gets Rid of Surplus Pills, Sells Them to U.S. Agency

By a Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

WASHINGTON, July 9—The new International Co-operation Administration has solved one big problem inherited from its predecessor, the Foreign Operations Administration, Representative Frank M. Karsten (Dem.), St. Louis, reported today.

The new agency, which took over administration of foreign aid programs when the FOA went out of existence recently, has arranged to dispose of 20,000,000 water purification tablets from which the FOA could find no use, ICA director John B. Hollister informed Karsten.

Karsten had criticized the FOA for buying 22,000,000 tablets, costing $38,905, for use in the 1954 Pakistan flood emergency. About 2,000,000 were sent to Pakistan, then it was discovered the rest would not be needed, he said. The FOA's explanation was that it had overestimated the danger of water contamination during the Pakistan floods, he added.

Karsten said the left-over tablets were sufficient to purify 5,000,000 gallons of water. Egypt, Libya and Haiti were approached, but there were no takers, he said. Hollister, however, came up with an answer. It has been decided to sell the tablets at cost to the Federal Civil Defense Administration, he notified Karsten.

3 GLOBEMASTERS ARRIVE IN JAPAN AHEAD OF TIME

ASHIYA AIR BASE, Japan, July 9 (AP)—Three huge C-124 Globemasters loaded with paratroopers from the United States arrived today in the vanguard of the largest aerial troop movement in history.

The three sky giants, ahead of schedule, were the first of 43 C-124s which will shuttle 7000 troops between Japan and America in the next few days. Forty others were due at two-hour intervals.

The first plane, 6 hours 6 minutes ahead of schedule, landed at 3:54 p.m. (1:54 a.m., St. Louis time) at this base 700 miles southwest of Tokyo.

First paratrooper off was Cpl. Daryl Roark, Albuquerque, N.M., a driver for the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, which is coming to Japan en masse from Fort Campbell, Ky.

Stops were made at Travis Field, Calif.; Hickam Field, Hawaii, and Wake Island.

The exercise is a part of the Army's continuing program, "Operation Gyroscope," whereby entire units trade overseas and United States assignments.

SOVIETS RETURN MORE BOATS

KIEL, Germany, July 9 (UP)—The Russians returned a second group of American lend-lease naval craft yesterday. It consisted of 17 PT boats and four submarine chasers given the Soviets in 1943 and 1944.

500,000 PERSONS IN BRITAIN KEEP SNAKES AS PETS

LONDON, July 9 (AP)—Britain is becoming one big zoo with nearly 17,000,000 people—one-third of the population—keeping in their homes some pet animal ranging from cats to crocodiles.

That statistical item was announced today by George Cansdale, former superintendent of the London zoo, as he opened a new zoo for children on the Isle of Wight.

He said British pets included some 6,000,000 dogs, 6,500,000 cats, 4,000,000 cage birds like canaries, budgerigars and finches, and 1,000,000 aquarium fish.

A half million keep snakes for pets and 2000 others, Cansadle said "possess such unusual pets as crocodiles, panthers, eagles, bears, lions and monkeys."

BRITISH VESSEL ATTACKED BY 2 JETS NEAR CHINA COAST

HONG KONG, July 9 (INS)—Royal Navy headquarters here reported today that two jet planes bombed and machine-gunned the British ship Inchwells this morning in the Mue river estuary leading to Foochow on the Chinese Communist coast.

The navy statement said the planes were Thunderjets. Unofficially they were identified as belonging to the Chinese Nationalists.

The ship suffered slight damage but no casualties were reported.

FIRM CHOSEN TO DESIGN MISSOURI U. DORMITORIES

Architects for a dormitory expansion program at the University of Missouri will be the St. Louis firm of Hellmuth, Yamasaki and Leinweber, Inc., University President Elmer Ellis announced at Columbia today. The name of the firm was changed last week to Hellmuth, Obata and Kassabaum.

Present dormitory facilities, which provide accommodations for some 1700 students, will be nearly doubled.

This is the first time in nearly 50 years that architectural work at the university is being done by a firm other than Jamieson and Spearl of St. Louis.

PROFIT MOTIVE PROMPTS BIRTH CONTROL IN JAPAN

TOKYO, July 9 (AP)—Fewer babies, fewer dependent allowances, lower labor costs.

That's the theory behind a plan announced today by the Hitachi Shipbuilding Co. It's going to teach its 14,000 employes about birth control.

Estimated annual savings: $27,800.

TRUCK HITS ROCK, 16 KILLED

DURANGO, Mexico, July 9 (UP) — Sixteen workers were killed yesterday when a truck crashed into a fallen boulder on a road near here and then plunged off a cliff into a deep ravine.

The men were members of a work shift going to their jobs on a railway tunnel under construction near Durango.

PAIR ROBBED OF $180 AND RING AT MARKET

Truck Driver Also Beaten in $7 Holdup by Gang of Youths.

Ben Bly, operator of a market at 4401 Aldine avenue, and his wife, Sophie, were held up when they opened their store at 6 a.m. today by two men, who fled with $180 and a diamond ring valued at $750.

Bly reported that one man pointed a revolver at Mrs. Bly, taking the money from her purse and the ring from her finger. The robbers, Negroes, ran north in Newstead avenue.

Millard Allen, a truck driver, 3527A North Twenty-second street, reported he was beaten and robbed of $7 by a gang of youths at Twentieth and Salisbury streets last midnight. Allen, treated at City Hospital for contusions and an injured jaw, said the youths jumped out of an automobile. After knocking him down and kicking him, they fled in the machine.

Harry Mendelsen, manager of a Peoples Liquor Store, 1108 North Vandeventer avenue, was held up last night by a man armed with a pistol. The robber, a Negro, was joined by two other men, one of whom also was armed, and the three fled on foot after taking an undetermined sum from the cash register.

A former convict captured last night after he broke into the Federal Coffee Shop, 18 South Eleventh street, remarked to his captors, "I fouled up again."

Police, summoned from nearby Central District after passersby saw a man prying the lock off the coffee shop door, booked the prisoner as William E. Dillard, Negro, 2900 block of Easton avenue. He has served two penitentiary terms and sentences at Bellefontaine Farm and the City Workhouse for burglary and larceny, records show.

Three air-conditioners valued at $599 and a $200 television set were reported stolen yesterday from the warehouse of W. H. Stanley Co., 5646 Delmar boulevard. The theft was discovered by John Carroll, manager of the firm.

Rep. Reed Leaves Rome.

$1042 STOLEN FROM SAFE OF MAPLEWOOD AUTO FIRM

A safe at the Cotter Buick Co., 2337 Big Bend boulevard, Maplewood, was robbed of $1042 Wednesday night, Maplewood police reported yesterday.

Police believe the burglars crawled under an 8-foot metal fence at the rear of the firm's lot, then entered through an open garage window. The money was in a metal box inside the safe. Stamps worth $15 also were taken.

Office manager Gerald Overhoff said he locked the safe and office at 10 p.m. Wednesday. Patrolman Percy Harrison said he found an open basement window while making his rounds after midnight, but it locks automatically after he closed it.

Martha Carr's OPINION

REG U S PAT OFF

Today's column is devoted to teen-agers who are invited to submit their questions to Martha Carr.

Dear Martha:

I AM 15 years old but my parents treat me like a baby. If I go to a party they have to come for me. When someone gives me a present, they say thank-you for me. They have told me what to major in at school and have already decided on the college I will attend. They won't let me go on single dates. Please help me.

DESPERATE.

It's the old story, I'm afraid. Parents just can't believe their children have grown up. But for all the unhappiness this causes you, it's better than if your parents didn't care where you went or how long you'd be out or what happened to you at school. It's just their way of expressing their love for you, so try not to resent it too much. When you go to college you will be independent and will have a chance to show you are an adult. Meanwhile, you can try to talk with them about the problem and see if they won't see your side of it. I doubt that they want to embarrass you before the other boys and girls and they may not realize how hard this is for you. But talking won't do it all. You'll have to keep showing them you are becoming a responsible young adult.

Dear Martha:

I HAVE JUST COME BACK from camp where I spent a week. There was a boy's camp nearby and the boys came over to visit. I liked one of the boys right away and he promised to call me the day after we got home as he is from St Louis too. I haven't heard from him yet and I wondered if I should call him.

PAT.

He's starting out mighty young on the "I'll call you" routine. He probably meant it when he said it, but, after all, you saw each other for anly a short time, and you really don't know whether you could like each other. I think I'd just cross it off as a pleasant meeting at camp and not worry about him. Don't make the mistake of chasing him. If he wants to call, he will.

Use Reasoning First

By Angelo Patri

"SONNY, don't make that noise in the house." Sonny was beating a tattoo on the side of the steel mixing bowl. When his mother spoke, he looked at her with alert eyes and continued beating.

"Sonny, don't make that noise. Your Nanna is trying to sleep." "Oh," said Sonny, "then I'll stop so Nanna can sleep," and with an air of righteousness he laid down the spoon and went to get his tinker toy.

There are times when we must say "Stop that," and say it positively. Children, like their elders, dislike being given sharp orders and if they can manage it, will disregard them. Often, if they are given a few words of explanation of the reason for the command, they will cheerfully obey.

GIVEN A REASON along with the order relieves them of the feeling of inferiority that a command so often rouses. It allows them to feel they are exercising their own will which adds to their dignity, and children have real dignity that should be respected.

If after the few words of explanation the child continues his error, it is time for positive action. If he will not stop of his own volition, then he must be stopped by force. We dislike using force on anybody but being responsible for the behavior of children we must be ready to do whatever the occasion demands; always considering the welfare of the child in question.

IF A CHILD IS INCLINED TO BE DISOBEDIENT, defiant, selfishly annoying, it is a mistake to ignore his attitude. We study his environment to learn what there is in it of people or circumstances to cause his antagonism. We try to remove anything that might cause such mischief. Always, and this is important, we impress upon this rebel the idea that he will meet again and again people and circumstances that he will not enjoy but which he must accept as cheerfully as possible. This for his future welfare.

Life makes no promises of easy days, of smooth running occasions. It makes no promises whatever. It is here to be lived as best one can and children should be reared with that in mind. To enjoy living, to find pleasant ways through the tangle of difficulties, they must learn to go along with life, adjusting to it, surmounting its troubles and making the best of what cannot be helped. This requires positive leadership by teachers and parents. They must decide on their line of practice and its goal and abide by it. Indecision, a faltering voice and a vacillating will cultivates just that attitude in the children.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

A WOMAN writes: "Will you please tell me how to correctly handle the following situation: We have recently moved to a small town. I have always called myself Mrs. John Brown, and cannot bear to be called Mrs. Jane.

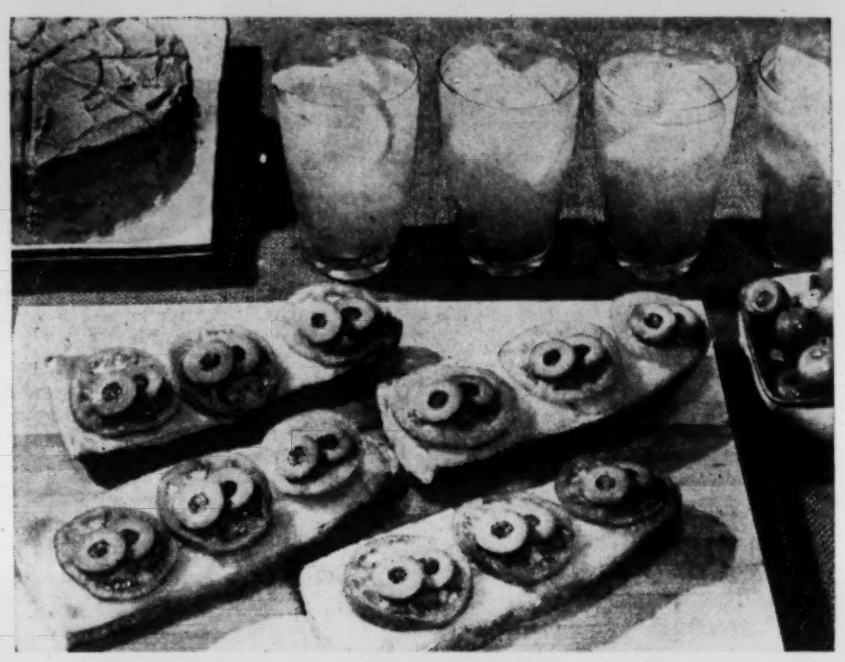
EMILY POST

As far as I can tell most of the women here prefix Mrs. to their own first names. My question is, how can I join in community activities and avoid having Mrs. tacked on to my Christian name in club listings? The problem is further complicated by the fact that my husband holds a rather important position in this small town, so I must be very careful not to give the impression of being a snob. Is there a tactful way to cope with this problem?"

Your wish to be known as Mrs. John Brown is definitely correct. But as a newcomer you cannot set yourself up as a critic of an established community custom without endangering your popularity. You can, of course, give your own name as Mrs. John Brown but if they do not choose to follow this form in their listings, then I am afraid you will have to submit to Mrs. Jane—at least until you have become an established member of the community, and then explain that you happen to dislike your own name used with the title Mrs. and love your husband's and do like to be called by it.

Sandwiches at Suppertime

A Light and Informal Meal During Heat of Summer



GRILLED OLIVE, TOMATO AND CHEESE ON FRENCH BREAD . . . A TASTY DELIGHT.

By Edith M. Barber

WE ALL enjoy the informality of summer. This applies to dress as well as to meals. Even the conservatives among the men have become converted to lighter clothing and sometimes to lighter food.

If the businessman has eaten that always heavy businessman's lunch, he may even welcome supper instead of the usual dinner so often planned according to his tastes. The women and children who, when it comes to food, are seldom considered first, love anything that is in the picnic class. The latter are just as hungry for a hearty meal in the middle of the day as they are at supper time.

TODAY ALMOST ANY COMBINATION of foods with bread is called a sandwich. We do not think it necessary to conform to the original "Lord Sandwich" invention, if credit is due to him, for putting sliced meat between slices of bread. We may even slice our bread lengthwise and serve it topped with a variety of foods that will actually provide satisfaction. A grilled olive cheese sandwich is a good choice.

On a warm night we may like to offer with this cooling lemonade for which it is so convenient to use a frozen concentrate. This may be garnished with sliced lemon or orange and whatever berries are in season. A green salad may be an accompaniment.

After a meal of this sort we enjoy particularly a well-frosted cake. For this, chocolate seems to be the favorite flavoring. Instead, a berry or cherry pie will undoubtedly be as welcome.

Lemonade With Berries.

Frozen berries; frozen concentrate for lemonade; cracked ice.

Make a pitcherful of lemonade by adding water according to the directions on the can of frozen concentrate. Wash and hull berries. In tall glasses, lay the berries in cracked ice (this way, they will stay floating in the glass and not sink). Fill glasses with lemonade and serve.

Grilled Olive Cheese Sandwich.

One loaf French bread, about 20 inches long; one-fourth cup mayonnaise; one and one-half teaspoons prepared mustard; one-half cup sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives; eight slices processed Cheddar cheese, cut in half; four medium-sized tomatoes, sliced; one-half teaspoon oregano.

Cut bread in half cross-wise, then in half length-wise. Combine mayonnaise and mustard and spread on bread. Top with olives, cheese, mayonnaise and mustard and spread on bread. Top with olives, cheese and tomatoes. Sprinkle with oregano. Broil three to four inches from source of heat five to seven minutes, or until cheese is melted. Garnish with additional olive slices, as desired.

Words, Wit And Wisdom

By William Morris

BELOW you will find two groups of 10 words each. The first group is numbered 1, 2, 3, etc. The words in the second group are lettered a. b. c, etc.

Today's quiz is planned to help you find out how well you can identify antonyms — words opposed in meaning to each other. For each word in the first group you will find a word of precisely opposite meaning in the second group. Thus word number 1 may mean the opposite of word lettered d. Write this down 1D. When you have jotted down all the answers in this way, check against the correct pairing at the bottom.

EACH CORRECT PAIRING scores 1 point for you. So a perfect score would be 10; 8 is fair. Below 6—better start using your dictionary more regularly. Here are the word lists!

1.—Elevate, 2.—Restless, 3.—Variable, 4.—Concise, 5.—Impair, 6.—Conjecture, 7.—Intrepid, 8.—Agitation, 9.—Placate, 10.—Meek.

A.—Equanimity, B.—Craven, C.—Enrage, D.—Arrogant, E.—Fact, F.—Redundant, G.—Improve, H.—Debase, I.—Identical, J.—Placid.

Answers.

1H, 2J, 3I, 4F, 5G, 6E, 7B, 8A, 9C, 10D.

How large is your vocabulary? How many thousands of words can you use with confidence? For the answers to these questions, just sent a stamped self-addressed envelope to William Morris in care of the Post-Dispatch for a free copy of his new self-scoring vocabulary test. It will show you how many words you now know and how to improve your vocabulary almost immediately.

CURRIED VEAL

My Day

Crucial Time for Indians

By Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK.

I HAVE one very constant correspondent in California whose main interest in life seems to be the situation of the Indians in our country, and I am glad to find there is someone who really cares because this is a very crucial time for the Indians.

As we took away their land years ago we gave them treaties that left certain lands in their possession and set down certain rights they would have in perpetuity in relation to our Government. They were considered wards of the state and a bureau was set up to look after their affairs and there were always Government representatives supposedly helping them on the reservations.

SOMETIMES these representatives were really interested in helping the Indians and sometimes they were untrustworthy and feathered their own nests rather than helped the Indians.

I cannot say I think we have ever been completely fair in our relations with the Indians because we cannot point with pride to the fact that they are well cared for. We have neglected the education of some and that is something to be ashamed of.

NOW THE GOVERNMENT has decided the time has come when the Indians cease to be wards of the state. They are to be absorbed into the community as citizens, and my woman correspondent from California writes me as follows:

"Members of the Eighty-fourth Congress are facing the necessity of giving serious consideration to the policy which the United States intends to follow in its future dealings with Indian American citizens.

"The questions which must be answered are these:

"Should the Federal Government, in accordance with the policy approved by Congress in 1953, end as quickly as possible all its special services to the Indians and all the special protection of their rights and their lands promised by treaties or agreements, without first obtaining the consent of the Indians themselves?

"Or, should Congress repudiate that two-year-old policy and adopt one based on the principle that the consent of a majority of the members of any Indian tribe or recognized band must be obtained before any bill ending Government responsibility for them may be introduced?"

SHE GOES ON to say that the public must know what the situation really is because otherwise we will not achieve in Congress a humane, responsible and honorable policy on the part of our Government in its dealings with the original inhabitants of this country.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

SOUTH'S plan of play in the deal below would have had an excellent chance against mediocre defense, but with an expert on his right, South should have been more resourceful.

West, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
North-South 30 on score.

	♠K106 ♥J42 ♦862 ♣7543
♠53 ♥Q873 ♦AKJ5 ♣AJ10	NORTH WEST EAST SOUTH	♠74 ♥10965 ♦Q1043 ♣Q86
	♠AQJ982 ♥AK ♦97 ♣K92

West	North	East	South
1♠	Pass	1♥	Double
2♥	Pass	Pass	3♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

The bidding, in the light of North-South's 30 score, was something less than strategic in two respects. Obviously, East was of that school which invariably shows a four-card major in response, whatever the texture of that suit and the general situation may be, and by thus failing to raise diamonds, he put two strikes on the defense against spades. South, for his part, might well have jumped to three spades instead of doubling, but strangely enough, he gained information from his method which should have given him the key to the play.

West laid down the king of diamonds and East signalled with the ten. West then continued with the ace and a low diamond. South ruffed, cashed the ace and king of hearts, led a trump to dummy and ruffed the heart jack, then returned to the table in trumps and led a club. His hope was that he could throw the lead to West by putting in the nine of clubs—West would then be end-played. But East was fully alive to his side's danger; the situation itself shouted "look out for an end-play!" So East put up the queen of clubs on the lead from dummy, and South's throw-in plan disintegrated. He had to lose three club tricks.

Taking the cue from the bidding, South should have tried a different maneuver. After cashing the ace-king of hearts, he should have led two rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, then should have led and passed the heart jack discarding a club. There was an excellent chance, on the bidding, that the heart queen lay with West rather than East (and if it did, the throw-in play against West would be an accomplished fact, not merely a hope.

Incidentally, it might be noted that if East had raised diamonds instead of putting in the "scientific" heart response, his play of the diamond ten at Trick 1 would have made it safe for West to underlead his diamond ace at Trick 2, for a club return.

Some Picnic Health Hints

By J. Earl Smith, M.D.

St. Louis Health Commissioner

SUMMERTIME is picnic time. Picnics are fun but sometimes sanitary precautions in food preparation are neglected, or facilities for refrigeration are poor or lacking, and the result is food poisoning.

The most common type of food poisoning is caused by staphylococcus germs — germs usually found in skin infections, particularly of the hands. It is very explosive in its effects, invariably causing severe vomiting and diarrhea within a matter of one to two hours after the ingestion of contaminated food.

Foods most commonly found to be the offender in hot weather are ham, poultry, pastries and puddings containing milk and eggs, and salad smade from meat, fish and potatoes.

FOLLOW these simple precautions and enjoy your picnic:

Wash hands thoroughly before handling food and be sure all dishes and cooking utensils are scrupulously clean.

Persons suffering from festering cuts, pimples, boils, head colds, diarrhea or "summer complaint" should never assist in the preparation of food.

Refrigerator temperature above 50 degrees Fahrenheit are dangerous for food storage. Prechill a camp regrigerator overnight. Never put food into a warm box. Most camp boxes are too small to hold enough ice to bring the temperature low enough for safe storage. If this is your problem a small piece of dry ice may be used with the wet ice. Don't handle dry ice with bare hands—it may lead to dangerous burns.

Hot or warm food that is to be kept for any length of time must be cooled to below 50 degrees Fahrenheit as rapidly as possible.

Wash all fruit and raw vegetables thoroughly to remove an insect spray or other possible contamination.

Pay attention to personal hygiene. Gastrointestinal infections caused by hand-to-mouth transmission can be prevented by hand washing.

Let's Explore Your Mind

By Dr. Albert E. Wiggam

Answer to Question No. 1.

NO. BOTH RESEARCH and experience show that each sex is more attracted to pictures of its own members—directly contrary to popular opinion. A man glances at a picture of a pretty girl and quickly forgets her. But a picture of a handsome man tips him off to some product for men. He instantly identifies himself with the good-looking fellow. Each sex identifies itself with the person shown—the women, with the pretty women; the man with the handsome man.

Answer to Question 2.

True. Your eyes cannot see anything except when they are still long enough for a photograph to register on the retina. Your eyes rest a fraction of a second on each word, then they jump to the next. Fast readers see several words at once. Slow readers jump two or three words forward and then one or two backward — unconsciously reading each line and a quarter or a half or three-quarters over again.

Answer to Question 3.

True—for two reasons: To escape blaming themselves and being blamed by others. They try to escape dominating, critical people by building an imaginary world where they can view them with contempt or indifference. They try to escape self-blame by the same device—imagining themselves as persons of power and importance. In extreme cases, they actually think they are Caesar, Napoleon, or some other famous person.

EX-CONVICT SOUGHT BY U.S. AFTER ARREST AT CASINO

LAS VEGAS, Nev., July 9 (UP)—Bureau of Internal Revenue agents today searched for one of two former convicts who got back $86,000 that police suspected was from the $305,000 holdup of the Woodside (Long Island) branch of the Chase National Bank last April 6.

The money was restored last night to James Ellsworth, 36 years old, Omaha, Nebr., and Raymond Wilson, 33, Tulsa, Okla., by officers who were unable to learn where the two obtained the fortune. Ellsworth, who was freed on bail late yesterday, disappeared immediately.

Ellsworth and Wilson were arrested Wednesday in a Las Vegas casino because they attempted to change the crisp new bills into smaller denominations. They were booked on suspicion of robbery and the money confisticated temporarily.

Ellsworth's attorney said he had left town with the money but that he would return Monday to appear at a hearing on the case. The attorney said Wilson would be bailed out of jail today and that he would appear at a hearing Tuesday.

NAVY PENSIONING TWO MEN ON PLANE RUSSIANS DOWNED

OAKLAND, Calif., July 9 (AP)—The injuries they suffered when Russian MIGS shot down their patrol bomber June 23 will end the active Navy careers of Thaddeus Maziarz, 33 years old, of Oakland, and Edward Benko, 25, of Chicago.

The Navy disclosed yesterday both will get disability discharges and pensions. The men were flown here last week with five others hurt in the bomber's crash landing on St. Lawrence island in the Bering sea.

Maziarz suffered burns and fractures. Benko's upper left arm was shattered.

TALLULAH SPURNS LONDON CONTRACT TO STAY WITH DOG

LAS VEGAS, Nev., July 9 (UP)—Tallulah Bankhead today put her small Maltese dog first and flatly rejected a lucrative contract to co-star with Marlene Dietrich at the Cafe de Paris in London.

The actress, appearing at the Sands hotel, said the pet, Dolores, would have to be quarantined for six months on their arrival in England for the proposed fall engagement.

"I wouldn't leave my dog alone for all the money in England," Miss Bankhead said. "Human beings can be parted. They still can correspond with all our modern means of communications. But dogs can't stand being parted—they are so sensitive—especially Dolores, who has been with me for four years."

Miss Bankhead said English laws treat dogs "so badly." She thought that with all the modern advances in medicine the English law ordering a long quarantine was old-fashioned.

"But darling," she added, "it's not that I really have anything against England. I've spent some of my happiest years there."

FLASH FLOODS HIT KENTUCKY; MAN LOST, $1,000,000 LOSS

LANCASTER, Ky., July 9 (AP)—Flash floods in this burley tobacco-growing area of central Kentucky yesterday left one man missing and damage estimated in excess of $1,000,000.

Sheriff L. C. Daniel said Clyde Newby remained unaccounted for and was presumed drowned. Two children reported to have drowned were found alive and unharmed.

Four inches or more of rain fell on Garrard county in less than two hours, glutting streams and sending an overflow down the valleys. Half the county's bridges and culverts were washed away or severely damaged.

IZVESTIA SIGHTS CRACKS IN WEST'S 'IRON CURTAIN'

LONDON, July 9 (AP)—The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said today "more and more cracks are becoming apparent in the Iron Curtain" and called it a sign East and West are coming closer together.

An Izvestia editorial broadcast by the Moscow radio charged that aggressive forces in the West brought on the cold war by pointing up "contradictions" in the social systems of the western and Communist states.

"No one intends to deny the existence of such contradictions," it said, "but this not only does not call for refusal to insure peaceful relations between countries and peoples, but on the contrary insistently confirms the need to support the principle of peaceful coexistence."

More and more people are coming around to this point of view, Izvestia declared.

"That is why more and more cracks are becoming apparent in the Iron Curtain with which supporters of the notorious policy from the position of strength would like to separate . . . countries with different social and state orders."

AUSTRIA, RUSSIA, AGREE ON RED COMPENSATION GOODS

VIENNA, July 9 (AP)—Austria and the Soviet Union have agreed on goods to be delivered by Austria as compensation for the Russian-administrated enterprises in this country, it was announced last night.

Under the Austrian state treaty, Austria must pay in goods the equivalent of $150,000,000 to the Soviet union for these enterprises. Negotiations in Moscow appeared to be deadlocked earlier this month because of Russian demands Austria was unable to meet.

Last night's communique said complete accord had been reached on all points including transfer of oilfields, industrial enterprises and goods, according to a telephone communication received here from Moscow.

AUTO OUTPUT HOLDS UP

DETROIT, July 9 (AP)—The nation's auto makers will maintain a high level of production this week despite the Independence Day holiday and heat-inspired work stoppages, Ward's Automotive Reports said.

The agency said that thanks to Saturday work in General Motors and Ford plants the week's output will come to 140,356 cars and 22,910 trucks in United States plants. Last week 158,402 cars and 26,282 trucks were made.

Ward's put Canadian output this week at 9679 cars and 2135 trucks against 8331 cars and 2056 trucks last week and 5680 cars and 1407 trucks in the comparable 1954 week.

So far this year, Ward's said United States plants have built 4,428,000 cars and 670,987 trucks. In the comparable 1954 period 3,082,660 cars and 580,110 were assembled.

HOGS OFF MORE THAN DOLLAR TO LOWEST SINCE LATE MAY

Trading was active all the week ending Friday and sharply higher on most cattle. Steers advanced $1 on an average, and a particularly fast, bullish market prevailed for heifers and mixed yearlings, prices of which jumped $1@1.50. Cows advanced 50c and more, and vealers and calves closed $1 higher; no change on bulls, or stockers and feeders. A Monday holiday cut supplies deeply at all points but especially here, steers numbering only 145 loads and heifers and mixed yearlings 75 loads. Fully a fourth of the receipts were cows. Waterfills were excessive all week, and many cattle showed increased effects of grass. The week's top at $24 was paid for a load of high-Choice 906-lb. mixed yearlings, and several smaller lots of 75—1000-lb. steer yearlings. High-Choice 1015 and 1055-lb. steers reached $23.75; several loads 1100-1180 lbs. $23.25; some average Choice 1362 lbs. $22.50; high-Good 1410 lbs. $20.75; bulk Good to average-Choice steers $20.75@23.25; a sizable showing of commercial to low-Good $18@20.50; bulk heifers and mixed yearlings $20@22.50; a few loads of best mixed $22.75@23.50; best straight heifers $23; bulk utility and commercial cows $12@14; utility and commercial bulls $13@15; Good and Choice vealers $18@22; a few Prime $24.

Compared with last Friday, barrows and gilts closed $1@1.25 lower and lowest since late May, sows 75c@$1 lower. Top for the week was $20.50 paid Tuesday but sales at the close of the week were practically all downward from $19.25. For the week, bulk of 180-220 lb. barrows and gilts sold at $18.75@24.25; 220 to 270 lbs. $17.50@20; 270 to 350 lbs. $15.75@18.50; 140 to 170 lbs. $16.50@19.75; 260 to 400 lb. sows $14@16.75; heavier sows $11@14.75.

Spring lambs closed the week $1@1.25 higher and higest since June 21, slaughter ewes steady to strong, spots 50c higher. Spring lambs topped at $24.50, late sales $24.25 downward. For the week, bulk of choice and prime sold at $22.50@24; good and choice $20@22.50; utility and Good $15@20; culls $12@14; a few good and choice shorn lambs and yearlings $16.50. GENERAL MOTORS CAR SALES

DETROIT, July 9 (AP)—General Motors reported its car divisions sold a record-breaking 1,947,906 new and 2,510,980 used cars in this year's first six months.

The former record for new car sales was 1,475,943 units sold in the first half of 1950. The old record for used car sales was 2,170,791 units delivered in the first half of 1941.

The G.M. report said every passenger car division—Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac—set new records for both new and used car sales in the January-June period.

The report did not break down the sales by divisions, but Buick previously reported its January-June volume at 398,050 retail deliveries and Oldsmobile reported 312,268 deliveries for the same period.

Meanwhile, Chevrolet, biggest of the G.M. divisions, announced its June retail deliveries amounted to a record-breaking 170,341 cars and 38,922 trucks. It gave no figures for the January-June half. This year's June volume, it said, was the first time in Chevrolet history that the 200,000 mark in car and truck sales had been reached.

The Chevrolet announcement marked the first time this year that big car maker has given out specific figures on retail deliveries. Ford, battling with Chevrolet for top place in production and retail sales, also has made few announcements of monthly retail sales volume.

GEN. MOTORS IS STOCK STANDOUT OF WEEK

Traders Try to Select Other Stock Split Candidates After G.M. Boom.

By ELMER C. WALZER
United Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, July 9 (UP)—General Motors Corporation common stock gained $1,393,417,500 in valuation of its 92,894,500 outstanding shares in an irregularly higher market during the past week.

The company's directors proposed a three-for-one splitup in the GM shares and their market immediately soared to the stratosphere.

The split was announced after the close on Tuesday, the first session of this holiday week. The stock promptly advanced on the Pacific coast exchanges. On Wednesday, the specialists were snarled by an influx of heavy buying orders for GM common. There were very few sellers. By steadily lifting the offering price they finally were able to arrive at an opening at 11:45, one hour and 45 minutes after the gong started trading on the exchange.

The GM Opening Block.

That opening block—85,000 shares at $128 a share—amounted to $10,880,000, largest trade in point of dollar volume ever recorded on the New York Stock Exchange. It represented many buyers and many sellers. The stock later rose to $128.50 a share. It met a bit of profit-taking later and closed at $124.63, a rise of $15 a share on the week.

The lure of a stock split was heightened by the GM action. Other companies were expected to follow the lead of the world's largest automobile maker. Traders tried to select these split candidates. They centered their attention on Sears Roebuck, which gained 10⅜ points on the week, more than 4 of them on Friday, and two oil shares—Standards of California and New Jersey—which gained more than 8 points each.

Chrysler Corporation shares scored a gain of more than 4 points on the week in response to estimates the company will report sharply higher earnings for the first half of 1955.

DuPont Big G.M. Holder.

Du Pont which now owns 21,000,000 shares of General Motors stock and will have 63,000,000 after the split is consummated, had a sharp runup for a time, but fell back and closed the week with a gain of only ⅜ point.

Industrial issues were whirled higher most of the time and their average reached an all-time high in the Wednesday session.

Then came a day of heavy-selling on Thursday which nearly wiped out the Wednesday rise. The latter amounting to 7.99 points was the widest since Sept. 5, 1939. The subsequent loss of 7.18 points was the widest since March 14.

The one thing that worried the market men was the failure of rails to keep pace with industrials. Rails lost ground.

At the close of Friday, the Dow-Jones industrial average stood at 461.18, up 7.36 points for the week but well below the all-time high set Wednesday at 467.41. The rail average closed the week at 157.65, off 3.77 points. Utilities were up 0.28 at 64.76.

Week's Sales Gain.

Sales for the holiday week totaled 11,565,490 shares or a daily average of 2,891,372 shares. In the previous week — a full week — sales totaled 11,541,058 or a daily average of 2,308,211 shares.

Market experts said the business picture continued favorable and could find little in the general news to harm the market, although admitting that the rail weakness was an adverse factor.

Second quarter and first half-year reports will soon be appearing. They are expected to make an excellent showing with a prospect some companies will boost dividends and thereby raise the yields on their stocks—yields that are slowly declining to the level of bond yields.

MIDWEST PIPING EARNINGS

Midwest Piping Co. Inc., reported unaudited net earnings of $235,129 equal to 30 cents a common share for the first quarter of the current fiscal year which began March 1. This compares with net of $397,223 or 51 cents in the corresponding 1954 quarter. Sales in the quarter just ended were $4,586,532 against $5,549,970 in the first quarter last year.

A dividend of 50 cents a share was voted payable Aug. 15, to stock of record July 29, the same as paid in preceding quarters.

BOSTON STOCK TRADE GAINS

BOSTON, July 9 (AP)—A 38.7 per cent jump in the volume of trading on the Boston Stock Exchange in the first half of this year compared with the first six months of 1954 was reported by the exchange.

Dollar volume activity rose to $156,653,002 over the corresponding 1954 half year's $112,925,707.

The exchange's subsidiary, Stock Clearing Corp. of Boston, cleared 204,292 transactions in the latest six months, 23 per cent more than in the previous comparable period.

The exchange listed as the 10 most active issues in the first half of 1955: General Electric, United Fruit, Curtiss-Wright Corp., General Motors, New England Electric System, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Torrington Co. and Chrysler Corp.

Uncle Ray's Column

AMONG the animals of the desert is the spiny-tailed lizard. It has a thick tail, covered with spines, and this has been called "a spiked war club."

The tail is swung from side to side, and offers a weapon of some force. The animal also can deliver a sharp bite.

The Arabian desert and the Sahara are the chief homes of spiny-tailed lizards, which dig into the sand in the evening. Thanks to the warm sand, they are guarded from the cold air of desert nights.

KEEPERS OF ZOOS like to show the public strange animals from all over the globe. Learning about spiny-tailed lizards, several zoo directors obtained specimens and put them in cages. Within a few weeks or months, the lizards died. Because they ate only a little food, it was supposed that they had starved.

Several of those in the New York Zoo were placed under the care of Dr. Raymond Ditmars. They ate a little food, including lettuce leaves, but failed to touch water which was placed near them in pans.

DR. DITMARS kept the cages warm, with a temperature of 90 degrees or more. This provided something like the heat of a desert, and made the lizards a bit more active, but still they kept on without taking a drink.

Water was squirted into their mouths with a small syringe, but this helped very little. As soon as a lizard felt water coming in, it would snap its mouth shut, and would keep it shut.

THE LIZARDS were almost given up to die of thirst, but water was dropped by accident on the backs of a few of them one day. The keepers sharp eye noticed that the water vanished into the backs, as ink will go into a blotter. This gave a hint. Each day after that, the lizards were sprayed with water.

The spraying brought a big change. The half-dead lizards now ran about, very much alive. Dr. Ditmars figured that on the desert they had obtained water when moist air condensed at night, as does dew, and that the moisture was taken in through the skin.
